LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The Lynn (Mass.) Reporter says that the shoe business of that city during the month of August was larger than that of any previous month on record. The total value of the boots and shoes during the month was about twelve hundred thousand dollars.

Thomas H. Dudley, formerly Consul at Liverpool, is in Washington. He recommends to the Secretary of the Treasury an export duty of three cents per pound upon all cotton going out of the United States. He represents that there will be an immense importation of foreign goods to the United States.

It is understood that Mr. Pearson, as agent of the Erie road, has received proposals for a loan from London capitalists, which, if accepted by the Company, would enable it to pay off Mr. Drew's loan, and devote a considerable amount to construction purposes. The amount of the loan is stated variously at $4,000,000 and $5,000,000; the bonds to be taken at 70, paying 6 per cent. in gold, and payable twenty years hence in coin.

There is considerable curiosity in financial circles relative to the mission of Sir Morton Peto and party. Rumor gives out that they propose to make investments in this country of great magnitude, and that to properly handle their present property they will make, at large cost, efforts for a controlling interest in two of the most prominent railway lines now held by Wall street capitalists. Sir Morton and his friends have been most hospitably entertained in New York, and are in daily consultation with the leading financiers.

The Boston Traveller has the following from a Washington correspondent: In reference to the admission of Southern representatives in Congress and the negro suffrage question, negotiations are on foot to this effect—that if the Southern States adopt laws conferring the right of suffrage upon all male adults without distinction of color, who can read and write, the Southern representatives to Congress shall be admitted, and a loan of from one to three millions of dollars made by the Government to the Southern States, to be distributed pro rata in aid of agriculture and improvements. This scheme finds almost universal favor with the leading Southern men here.

The drouth in New England continues to the serious detriment of manufacturers. Says the Springfield Republican: Everybody feels the discomfort of the drouth, but the loss seems at present to be falling principally upon the manufacturers. Hundreds of mills in all parts of New England, and of all kinds, which would otherwise be driven to their fullest capacity, are idle entirely for want of water; and others are running only a part, and generally a very small part, of the time. But while all the manufacturing interests are suffering, the paper makers seem to be the worst off of any. A great many paper mills are situated on the smaller streams, large enough in ordinary times, but which dry up and sink to nothingness under drouth like the present; and hence one reason of the large damage to the paper-making interest.

BIRD HUNTING ON THE PRAIRIES.—The modus operandi of prairie bird hunting is described as follows: Mounted on a lumber wagon, drawn by a pair of good horses, with a trained dog or two in company, we sally forth to the broad plain. Arrived at the proper ground, the dogs are put out, and set about finding the game—the wagon slowly moving along. When the pointers give the well-known indications of the game being near, the sportsmen alight and move cautiously toward the spot pointed out by the dogs. Presently up springs the bird, sometimes several, with a startling whirr, and bang, bang, go the expectant pieces, the success being proportioned to the holder's skill. When the birds fly off and come down at a reasonable distance, they are followed up by the hunters, who rarely fail to find them at the precise spot they have alighted. Having secured as many of these as may be, the sportmen take their places in the wagon, and move on till the dogs again give the signal for them to come down with gun in hand, ready for another discharge.

EMIGRATION OF ENGLISH FACTORY HANDS.—The Inman steamship Kangaroo, which arrived at New York last Saturday from Liverpool, landed over one hundred and fifty artisans and factory hands from England and Ireland, who come to seek employment in the great manufacturing centres of the New England States, and aid in developing the rapidly increasing commercial interests of the Union. These people come from Manchester, Bradford, Huddersfield and Belfast, and are destined for Lowell, Lynn, Lawrence, Waltham and Boston, Massachusetts; Providence, Rhode Island, and New London, Connecticut. They are of a respectable class, fairly educated, industrious, and full of hope for the future, in consequence of the very encouraging reports which had reached them from some of their associates who preceded them to our shores.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court for the Third District in New York, Justices Hogeboom, Miller and Ingalls presiding, unanimously decided at the General Term, last week, that the shares of stockholders in National Banks were exempt from taxation by State authority, when the capital stock of the bank was invested in Government securities. The parties were the First National and the Exchange Banks of Albany, acting in behalf of the other National city Banks, and the Board of Assessors of Albany. It is understood that an appeal will be heard in the Court of Appeals at its next term.

TRIAL OF WIRZ.

The Evidence for the Defense.

Nothing of Importance Elicited.

WASHINGTON, September 28.—The Wirz Military Commission reassembled to-day. The examination of Col. Parsons was resumed. While he commanded at Andersonville boxes and supplies from the Sanitary Commission reached there. He had them sent in to the prisoners, for which they thanked him. Witness never knew of Captain Wirz being absent with the dogs. It was a penitentiary offense for Confederates to trade for greenbacks. He thought this was so declared by an act of Congress, and by a statute of the State of Georgia. The country around Andersonville was poor, and as a consequence, vegetables were scarce. Soon after some negroes had reached Andersonville, he addressed a communication to General Winder, asking what disposition should be made of them. The reply was that the question was in abeyance at Richmond, and until it was settled that they should be treated as prisoners of war. Witness did not know whether sentries were furloughed after shooting Union prisoners. Such information had never reached him.

Cross-examined by Judge Advocate Chapman—Witness was first assigned to the command of troops and next to the post. A great effort was made to build accommodations for the prisoners. Captain Wirz assumed the responsibility of building a dead house.

Judge Advocate—Would it not have been more humane to build a shelter for the living?

Witness—I think it was impracticable for Captain Wirz to furnish all the shelter required.

Judge Advocate—You do not answer my question.

Witness—Then, I answer yes; some shelter might have been built; I think the Quartermaster had not sufficient energy. I never exercised the right to punish prisoners; Capt. Wirz never received any orders for that purpose; the latter was responsible for what he did there. Capt. Wirz drew up the rules and regulations, and they had my approval. Capt. Wirz labored indefatigably. Whether or not he accomplished all he desired I do not know, but I do know that the prison was not half cared for. I think the responsibility rested on those who crowded so many prisoners there.

By the Court—Capt. Wirz drew up the prison rules by his own authority. Witness approved of them, because he thought they were right. There was no dead line therein provided. It was subsequently erected by virtue, he supposed, of Capt. Wirz's own rank.

Nazareth Allen, of the 3d Georgia reserves, who had been examined for the prosecution, was now called for the defense. There was a good deal of sickness in the regiment, and owing to the heavy duty required, much dissatisfaction existed among the men, and some of them straggled away. The effect of the bad rations was diarrhea and other diseases among the troops. He saw some of his men wearing old clothing which they had purchased from the Union prisoners. When Gen. Stoughman captured the raiders they were all brought to Andersonville. They were searched, and jewelry, paper money, ladies' shawls, gold and silver spoons and forks, pocket books, and daguerreotypes were taken from them. Witness never heard a furlough could be obtained for shooting Union prisoners.

Cross-examined by Judge Advocate.—Witness knew of no soldier dying from starvation or emaciation, because of insufficient food.

Question—Was the clothing which you saw the rebel soldiers taken from the dead bodies of Union soldiers?

Answer—I do not know, but I believe.

Mr. Baker—Tell us all about it.

The Judge Advocate objected, saying the witness had answered the question.

Nothing further of importance was elicited, and the Court adjourned.

A "Fast" Young Woman.

BOSTON, September 28.—A dashing young woman, named Nellie Otis alias Curtis, has been arrested here for the larceny of $6,400 in money and Government bonds, from a man in New York, on Friday night last. The woman arrived in Boston on Saturday, and created considerable excitement among the sporting fraternity, exhibiting $3,000 at a time—visiting the races and paying for thirty-two bottles of wine and other liquors. She placed $3,200 in the hands of a young man to keep for her, and upon his refusing to return 2,500 of it, she made complaint at the police office. The man was found and the $2,500 returned, as was supposed, to the rightful owner. The man from whom the money was stolen in New York then made his appearance, and recovered less than half of the $6,400, but refuses to prosecute the woman.

Episcopal Convention of New York

NEW YORK, September 28.—At the session of the Episcopalian Convention, ex-Gov. John Aiken, after the address of the Bishop was concluded, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Convention cordially respond to the sentiments presented by the Bishop of the Diocese, in his address respecting the return of peace to our land, and the state of the church in the Southern dioceses.

The Bishop in his address had said that the Northern brethren should do all that in them lies to reestablish the Union of the church. There were no nobler spirits in the pale of the church, than are to be found in the South, and he was happy thus to testify to their worth, and to express the estimation in which they were held by him.

Convention of Evangelical Christians.

CLEVELAND, September 28.—The Convention of Evangelical Christians met yesterday. A permanent organization was effected by nominating Chief Justice Chase, of Washington, President, with Vice Presidents and Secretary. Addresses were delivered during the day by Drs. Kirk, Buddington, Clark and others, disclosing the objects of the convention. Thirty delegates were enrolled, representing nineteen different denominations. Some plans of the organization will probably be presented by the Business Committee this morning. It is a very interesting gathering of earnest Christian clergymen and laymen, and results of value may be expected.

Attempt to Assassinate Gen. Grant.

His Special Car Thrown from the Track.

At about two o'clock yesterday morning, a special train of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad, which was bringing General Grant back to this city from Indianapolis, reached Guilford, a point thirty-three miles from the city, and was going at quite a slow rate comparatively, on account of a sharp carve and bridge which they were nearing, when the car bearing the General was partially thrown from the track, and was dragged, thus, a considerable distance, fortunately without injuring the inmates. Upon stopping the train, it was discovered that some fiend in human form had deliberately attempted the General's assassination, by so adjusting the switch as to throw the car from the track, having broken open the switch-lock in order to get at it. Gen. Grant reached the city yesterday in safety, and attended the races. There is a rather queer coincidence in this connection, in the fact that, at about the same time, a sleeping-car, of a train on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, which was conveying Major General Sherman to Lawrenceburg, was thrown from the track and roughly tossed about, fortunately without any serious result.—Cincinnati Commercial.

—According to the Boston Traveller, the press and the people of Massachusetts are speaking out with great unanimity in favor of the release of Alexander H. Stephens. Mr. Wm. King, a prominent planter of Georgia, and well known for his efforts in behalf of the Union, who is now in this city on business, principally in connection with the Freedman's Bureau, assures us that no man could do so much good, at the present time, in the work of restoring his State to its proper relations to the Union, as Mr. Stephens. As early as one year ago Mr. King was within the Union lines, and had frequent interviews with Gen. Sherman. That portion of the State of Georgia through which our army had marched was a scene of desolation, and in the hope that he might not be compelled to pursue the work of destruction further, Gen. Sherman sent Mr. King through the lines, with a message to Mr. Stephens and Gov. Brown, promising them a safeguard if they would meet him with a view to restoring the State to the Union, without further bloodshed or injury to property. Mr. Stephens heartily approved of the proposed meeting, but Gov. Brown hesitated, and the project failed, though Mr. King had a letter from Mr. S. favoring it. The friends of Mr. Stephens, who is a man of feeble constitution, weighing only eighty-six pounds, fear that his imprisonment at Fort Warren, in the approaching inclement season of the year, will speedily destroy his life. This would be neither an honor nor an advantage to the country, and might prove a great loss.

TURK'S ISLAND SALT.—The Turk's Island Standard of a late date says: "Most of the salt shipped since our last report has been from Salt Bay, where of late several large vessels have loaded. The moderate demand at present is rather beneficial than otherwise, as the ponds throughout the Colony are in splendid condition, and require all the available force to gather in the salt now made, before the rainy season sets in. We have an ample supply on hand, but most of it is exposed to the weather, and would soon be cleared off by a gale. Price 10 cents."

The Akron Beacon gives the particulars of a suicide in Summit county, committed under very peculiar circumstances. On the evening of the 16th, Mr. Aaron Thompson, while riding in a carriage with a young lady as a companion, deliberately shot himself. He was intoxicated at the time, and his companion, thinking the firing of the pistol one of his freaks, drove some distance before she discovered the awful truth. He was taken to the house of Mr. Caskey, and died on Sunday evening.

Our Washington Correspondence.

Dull Times in Washington—Southern Trade and Railway Connections—The Wirz Trial—How Long it will Last—The Prisoner on his Last Legs—School Houses for Freedmen—A City Official Shown up—Adventures of a Lightning Rod Man.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 26th, 1865.

Since the great army, that for years either laid in front of this city or near it, was disbanded, the business of Washington has become extremely dull. When the army went the sutlers had to follow, and when they left, all sorts of business at once dried up—unless it be the pardon business, which is still in a flourishing condition. Southern merchants come here, take a look at the sights—get a pardon, and then pass on to Baltimore or further East, to lay in a stock of goods. The idea of purchasing anything here, never enters their heads. Though we live here, we confess, we don't like to purchase anything—in which respect we are about on an equality with our Southern brethren.

Baltimore is at present commanding a pretty lively Southern trade. It will soon do more perhaps much more, than it ever did before. Its railroad connections with the South are much better than before the war. The goods destined for the South do not have to be unloaded in the city and then boated nine miles to Alexandria, there loaded into cars again. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company receive freight at their depot in Baltimore, where it is loaded into cars, and the same cars run directly through to Richmond and Danville. There is nothing to prevent cars from Philadelphia or Harrisburg running through to Richmond and Lynchburg, and further South, without changing.

Two daily trains (morning and evening) now leave this city on the arrival of the Eastern trains—on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad to Richmond. The road is in excellent order, and trains run through on time. At Richmond connections are made for Charleston, Savannah, &c., which is something like old times again.

The trial of Wirz progresses slowly. The case has occupied the attention of the Commission since August 22d, almost constantly, and has proved a tedious and laborious trial to all concerned. One hundred and twelve witnesses were examined on the part of the prosecution. The defense have summoned over one hundred witnesses, some thirty of whom are already here, so that the trial bids fair to last another month. Unless something very favorable for the prisoner soon turns up, judging from his appearance, he will hardly live to see the end of the trial. He is on his last legs. His actions indicate that he would soon end his miserable existence were it not for the watchfulness of the guard placed over him. He is now on earth without a single thing to care for him. His friends—everybody have deserted him—even his wife does not show a single spark of affection and anxiety for his welfare. She makes daily visits to him in prison, but it is only out of respect for appearance sake, and not from any desire to act the part of a consoling and devoted wife. The meetings are exceedingly commonplace.

Secretary Harlan, of the Interior Department, has given the use of two public lots of ground to the Freedmen's Bureau to erect temporary school houses for the education of the children of the freedmen. This is a noble offering on the part of the Secretary, at a time when so greatly needed, with the city fathers kicking so hard against every movement tending to the elevation or education of the colored people of this District.

But look out for a howl of indignation from our worthy Mayor and city officials, and property holders generally, who don't believe that a colored person should be taught to read and write. Their estimation of the colored race is the same as in South Carolina. They don't believe in associating with them publicly, but some of them do privately. A certain city official can't bear to look at a "nigger." The sight of one makes him sick. And notwithstanding all this, if we can believe the flying reports or the woman herself, we think this official is a sheep in wolf's clothing. In this city lives a good looking mulatto woman with five children. The mother earns the bread for herself and these children by hard work over a wash tub. She has hard work to earn barely sufficient to feed and clothe these children. The city official spoken of above, who can't bear publicly to look at a "nigger," is the father of all these children. His features are so indelibly stamped on each one of them, that there is no room for a mistake. This official has plenty of money, and yet, strange to say, he has entirely abandoned this colored love of former days—refusing to do a single thing toward the support of either the mother or children. This is only one case of dozens in this city. These very men—these fathers of mulatto and quadroon children—are the ones who at present are striving most to keep the negro down in degradation, and are hardest in denouncing the education of the colored people.

George W. Downey, a copperhead lightning-rod agent of this city, noted through the war for his rebel sympathy and hostility toward the Government, some time since paid the fine of the rebel General Hill, who was committed to the work-house for vagrancy, drunkenness and disgraceful and obscene street conduct. The lightning rods on the Patent Office required repairing, and Downey called on the superintendent of the building for the job. Mr. Goodwin has but recently been appointed Disbursing Clerk of the Interior Department and Superintendent of the building in place of Mr. Lamon, a noted rebel sympathizer, who, in 1861, declared "that he would sooner wade through Northern blood up to his knees than lift his hand against the South." Notwithstanding this fact he was retained in office until the appointment of Mr. Harlan as Secretary of Interior. The feelings of Sir. Harlan toward this sort of fellows is well known all over the country, and Mr. Harlan knowing well the proclivities of Lamon, at once removed him. Mr. Goodwin has no more love for them than Secretary Harlan, and when Downey requested of him the job, he inquired directly of him if "he was the noted secesh sympathizer who had paid Hill's fine?" On Downey's replying in the affirmative and boasting over it, Mr. Goodwin informed him that "rather than employ him he would trust the building to the lightnings of heaven." Downey flew into a rage, and rushed down to an Alderman's office, where he made an affidavit and had it inserted in Florence's copperhead paper, accusing Mr. Goodwin of blasphemy and proscription, and the copperheads are trying to make capital out of it. We wish we had some more Harlans and Goodwins in office to clear out the secesh element still remaining in the Departments. S. C.

The English Capitalists.

At Cleveland the Sir Morton Peto party were "put through" the usual reception gauntlet, banquets, speeches, &c., all of which were, of course, very fine. Sir Morton in his speech made the following capital points:

It seems that you accept the fact of our large investments in this country as proofs that we have had confidence in you. It is true that we had confidence, and are perfectly satisfied with the result of that confidence. Those gentlemen who had not like confidence with us, and who put their money in Confederate bonds, have no occasion to rejoice with us. [Great laughter and cheering.] In going back to England and reporting the result of our visit, we shall take back a pleasant tale. We have everywhere been greeted with professions of friendship which we heartily believe to be sincere. If the two countries would remain friendly we must resolve to respect each other's independence. After our journeyings west and east we can say there is only one thing that we have not seen in this country which can be seen in every other country—we have not seen a single man asking alms. In other countries, no matter where, we could not have traveled a day without being appealed to on all sides by beggars; not a port that we could enter without being met on landing with appeals for alms. Here we can say that we have not seen a beggar, or a person whose appearance indicated want.

National Evangelical Convention.

This Convention, now in session in Cleveland, is presided over by Chief Justice Chase. He said the object of the meeting was to organize a Christian Commission for the people, corresponding to the Christian Commission for the army. Among the distinguished delegates present are Jay Cooke, Philadelphia; Hon. C. N. Olds, Attorney General of Ohio, Columbus; H. Thane Miller, Cincinnati; Rev. B. Frankland, Cincinnati; Mrs. Annie Wittenmeyer; H. P. Hopkins, Cincinnati; Rev. Dr. Kirk, Boston, Congregationalist; Rev. Dr. Durbin, New York City, Methodist; Rev. Dr. Childs, Boston, Baptist; Rev. Dr. Boardman, Philadelphia, Presbyterian; Rev. E. R. Smith, Nashville, Tennessee; Rev. D. A. Randall, Columbus, Ohio; Rev. E. R. Marvin, New York City; Rev. A. C. Osborn, St. Louis.

Oil on the Yellow Creek.

The Wellsville Union says: "The well of Dr. Truesdale, of Little Yellow Creek, which we noticed last week, has been re-tubed, and is yielding oil of a superior quality. The flow, however, is not regular, as the paraphine accumulates in the tube and chokes it up. When the paraphine is loosened the oil flows very rapidly. On Tuesday afternoon, while the hands at the well had ceased pumping to make some repairs in the tank, the paraphine burst loose and three barrels of pure oil flowed in ten minutes. On Wednesday about two barrels flowed in the same way. Experienced oil men express the opinion that it will result in a good paying well. We may confidently look for an oil interest here that will give Wellsville a greater impetus than it has ever had. We hope by next week to do proper justice to the oil interest in this section."

CRIME IN CHICAGO.—At the September term of the Recorder's Court, in Chicago, fifty-six prisoners were convicted and sentenced. Thirty-eight were sentenced to the State Penitentiary for terms ranging from one to fourteen years, and the remaining eighteen were sent to serve out terms in the county jail or the city bridewell. This was the crop of a single month. Chicago must excel in everything.

A Chinese Crucifixion.

The following account of a recent crucifixion in China, interesting because of its resemblance to those mentioned in Scripture, is by Mr. James Jones, of Amoy, who witnessed the execution on the 18th of October:

The victim was a well-known thief, whose principal offense was stealing young girls and selling them for prostitutes. On his trial before the judge he refused to criminate himself, although repeatedly scourged until his back was raw. If a female witness fails in giving satisfactory evidence in a court of justice, she is beaten with a leather strap across the mouth. His wife, desirous of sparing her husband, refused to give evidence, but after two or three applications of the strap, her courage gave way. She confessed his guilt, at the same time admitting that $200 of money so derived was hidden in the sea near the beach. Officers were sent in search, and finding the dollars in the place indicated, the prisoner was sentenced to decapitation—deemed by the Chinese the most severe of punishments—because they imagine that if a man leaves this world minus any of his members he appears in the same condition in the next. The culprit, therefore, prayed to be crucified instead of being beheaded. The cross was of the Latin form, the foot being inserted in a stout plank and the criminal, standing on a board, had nails driven through his feet, his hands stretched and nailed to the crossbeam. His legs were fastened to the cross with an iron chain, and his arms bound with cords, and on the cord round his waist was inserted a piece of wood, on which was written his name and offense; a similar piece on his right arm contained his sentence—namely to remain on the cross day and night until he died; another on his left arm had the name of the judge with his titles and offices. The criminal was nailed to the cross inside the Yamun, in the presence of the Magistrate, and then carried by four coolies to one of the principal thoroughfares leading from the city, where he was left during the day, but removed at night inside in the prison for fear of his friends attempting to rescue him, and again carried forth at daylight in charge of two soldiers. He was crucified at noon on Wednesday, and Mr. Jones conversed with him at five in the evening. He complained of pain in the chest and thirst. On Thursday he slept for some hours, when the cross was laid down within the gaol enclosure. No one was allowed to supply him with food or drink, and during the day there was quite a fair in front of the cross, people being attracted from a distance and the sweetmeat venders driving a large trade. On Saturday he was still alive, when the Taotai was appealed to by a foreigner to put an end to the wretch's sufferings, and he immediately gave orders that vinegar should be administered, which he expected would produce immediate death; but the result was otherwise, and at sunset, when the cross was taken within the goal, two soldiers, with stout bamboos, broke both his legs and then strangled him.

How the Rebel Loan was Engineered in England.

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune is responsible for the following: On the list of English holders of rebel cotton bonds, given in this morning's papers to the public by Mr. Seward, figures James Spence, Liverpool correspondent of the London Times, over initial "S," to the extent of the nice sum of fifty thousand pounds. Newspaper correspondents will be naturally struck with awe at the contemplation of this figure, representing an amount of sudden wealth unknown among the followers of the newspaper calling in this country. But I happen to know that this quarter of a million of dollars, once possessed by the notorious "S," was not the fruit of the legitimate exercise of his pen, but of the most stupendous black mailing ever successfully attempted by a member of the profession. After the fall of Richmond, a Yankee, of predatory habits, while in search of spoils, found in some public building the whole correspondence between the rebel Treasury Department and the firm of Schroeder & Co., the well known London bankers and principal negotiators of the rebel loan in England. In one of their letters to the rebel Secretary, said firm complained of the insatiable greediness of Spence and the necessity they had been under to offer him large inducements to "do up the loan" in the Times. They state the exact amount of the gratuity paid to him by allowing him to take a large amount of the bonds at fifteen or twenty per cent. below the subscription price, but the figures have escaped my memory. [I am prepared, however, to prove this charge.] According to the reports of the late meeting of the bondholders in London, some of the victims complain that Schroeder & Co. had not furnished the desired information relative to the terms of negotiating the loan with the rebel Government. This information the noble victims may perhaps obtain by applying to the aforesaid Yankee finder. Possibly some clue may also be obtained from the captured correspondence, as to the manner in which the Hon. Evelyn Ashley, Private Secretary to Lord Palmerston, subscribed for bonds to the amount of five hundred pounds.

Steel Ships.

At the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, held at Birmingham, recently, Mr. Bessemer read an interesting paper "on the manufacture of cast steel, its pureness, and employment as a substitute for wrought iron." He says the Bessemer cast steel made for ships' plates is of an extremely tough and ductile quality, and possesses a degree of strength about double that of the inferior kind of iron plates usually employed in ship-building. Thus, a much less weight of material may be employed, and at the same time a greater degree of strength given in all parts subjected to heavy strains. One firm, he stated, had constructed no less than 15,000 tons of shipping, wholly or partially built of steel. Of these, thirty-eight are steam vessels, with an aggregate of 5,910 horse-power. The principal masts and spars of eighteen sailing vessels were also built wholly of steel by the same firm.

An iron ship, to rate first class at Lloyd's for 1000 tons measurement, would weigh 550 tons more than a steel one of the same class. Two steel paddle-wheel steamers recently launched at Liverpool draw from three to four feet less water than iron steamers. The largest vessels of war can be built of steel 200 tons lighter and at the same time have 9-inch armor-plates, instead of 1½ inch. He showed how much more durable steel rails, axles, tires, &c., were than those made of wrought iron. For rails the endurance was at least 20 to 1 in favor of the steel rail. There are 17 extensive steel works in England, one of which turns out 21 tons every four hours. In a short time there will be in operation machinery capable of producing fully 6000 tons of steel weekly, or equal to 15 times the entire production of cast steel in Great Britain before the introduction of the Bessemer process. Mr. Bessemer closed by remarking that "the average selling price of this steel is at least £20 per ton below the average price at which cast steel was sold a few years ago. With the present means of production, therefore, a saving of no less than £6,240,000 per annum may be effected in Great Britain alone, even in this infant state of the Bessemer steel manufacture."

A Wonderful Discovery.

An exchange paper has news from China of the most astonishing character. On the authority of Mr. Burlingame we are informed that the Chinese are not the demi-barbarians which we have always considered them, but the most enlightened people in the world. The subjoined extract will give an idea of the discoveries of Mr. B.:

Instead of an ignorant and semi-savage people, they are found to be one of the best educated, most intellectual and moral people on the face of the earth. The Chinese Empire is probably the oldest Government on the face of the globe, and, if anything, more democratic than our own, merit being the sole test for promotion in all its departments. With a population of nearly 400,000,000, they have maintained their form of government through centuries undisturbed, and with less internal convulsions than any other nation. Their system of education is more perfect than our own, the inducements held out to students furnishing the real stimulant to gratify and encourage their ambition to excel. To surpass in intellectual knowledge and power is the key that opens to the Chinaman the doors to the highest positions in the government, the passport to office, whether he commences as the son of a coolie or a mandarin. With a climate as diversified as our own, ranging from near the tropics to the colder latitudes, they have all the facilities for a great and powerful nation. Being of a far more dense population, the development in agriculture has been, through necessity, carried to a more perfect state, until science has developed the effect of lights and shades upon vegetation. The cold and broken regions which in this country are left barren and untouched, are there made fertile and productive. With broad navigable rivers and fertile plains, they have all the features for an extensive commercial people, and present one of the richest fields for American commerce.

IMPORTANT SUIT DECIDED.—The "Champagne" trials in San Francisco have resulted in a verdict for the United States, and shippers of the principal brands of that article, we learn from the Bulletin, have been declared guilty of defrauding the United States by falsely invoicing their wines. The trials demonstrated the fact that the entire product of genuine champagne wine exceeds twelve trillions of bottles per annum, of which more than three trillions are sent to the United States. The amount shipped to California is reported by the agent of the Treasury Department, resident in France, to be much greater than that sent to any other locality, considering the population of the State and the country tributary to it, and it appears that the undervaluation of this article was so great in the year 1863, that in that year the Government was defrauded of more than half a million of dollars of duty. It is hoped that the result of these trials will have a salutary effect, and tend to restore the importing business to a just basis.

The official report on the race between the Winooski and Algonquin states that the economical performance of each vessel was equal, and that the arrangement of the Winooski machinery is the completest and most convenient possible, and its economy is fully equal to that given by the very complex design of the Algonquin.

SECOND EDITION.

4 O'CLOCK A. M.

WASHINGTON.

THE PIRATE SHENANDOAH.

Gen. Butler Settling Accounts.

Appointments by the President.

CHICAGO VISITORS EXPECTED.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, September 28.

After the Shenandoah.

The Navy Department has information that the United States steamers Saranac and Sawnee sailed from San Francisco, the former on the 14th and the latter on the 20th of August, in pursuit of the pirate Shenandoah. Both of these steamers are fast and heavily armed, and should either be fortunate enough to get up with the pirate, no fears may be entertained of the result.

General Butler.

Major General Butler arrived in town to-day, and has been engaged all day at the Treasury Department in the settlement of his account. He was waited upon this evening by a committee of the Returned Soldier's and Sailor's Benevolent Association, and invited to address them to-morrow evening. He was unable to comply, but promised to speak in their behalf in a few days.

The Chicago Tourists.

The Chicago City Council delegation, escorted by some of the members of the Baltimore Council, are expected to arrive here to-morrow. Arrangements have been made by the municipal authorities of Washington to give them a handsome reception.

THE UNITED STATES REGULARS.

Absence of Secretary M'Culloch.

Return of General Gilmore.

The Louisiana Delegation.

Political Condition of North Carolina.

Witnesses for the Boat-Burners.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, September 28.

On Furlough.

Secretary McCullough will leave Washington in a few days for his former home in Indiana, on private business. He will be absent about two weeks. This will be the first furlough the Secretary has taken since his appointment to the position he now so ably fills.

The Regulars.

Most of the companies composing the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Regular Artillery regiments have been dismounted, and until further orders will serve as heavy artillery. The Fifth regiment will probably be ordered to Florida, and the others to Texas.

General Gilmore.

Major General Q. A. Gilmore arrived here to-day on his way to rejoin his command in South Carolina.

Judge Halyburton, of Richmond, is an applicant for pardon.

Recruiting.

Returns received at the Adjutant General's Office, show that the regular army is being recruited at the rate of one battalion, or one third of a regiment, per day. Congress will probably be recommended to increase the regular force to fifty thousand men.

Appointments.

The following are among the appointments of Assistant Assessors of Internal Revenue made to-day by the President: Ohio—Andrew J. Roe, sixth division, fourth district. Illinois—Benj. Swayne, fifth division, eighth district. Iowa—Jacob L. Chase, ninth division, third district. Wisconsin—Andrew McLaughlin, twelfth division, fifth district. Pennsylvania—Abel T. Parker, twelfth division, eighteenth district; Wm. H. Stonebock, fourth division, eleventh district; James Cassiday, first division, twenty-second district. West Virginia—William H. Hamick, sixth division, second district.

The Louisiana Delegation.

Which called upon the President the other day, was composed of Miles Taylor and Judge Lee. They represent Governor Wells, and desire to have the present State government and constitution thrust aside and his present Excellency appointed Provisional Governor. Another party representing Senator Hahn and his friends have also had several interviews with the President. They ask that the election which has already been called shall be allowed to go on, alleging that the State Government is as legitimate as that of Virginia, of Arkansas, or of Tennessee; that a new convention would inevitably make a worse constitution, and that Wells has already quite as much power as it is safe to trust in such hands. They further ask that if any Provisional Governor is to be appointed, that Governor Robert C. Wickliffe, be the man. This party is headed by Hon. A. P. Dostie.

Political Condition of North Carolina.

Hon. Kenneth Rayner, of North Carolina, has written a letter to a friend in this city on the political condition of affairs in his State. The letter, which is intended for publication, will be given to the public in a few days. It is a voice from the South deserving a candid and favorable hearing. Mr. Rayner's sincerity and frankness will not be doubted, nor will his opinions be disregarded. The circumstances which forced such a man into even a seeming acquiescence in secession deserve consideration, and his view of the situation in the South will command attention.

Evidence for the Boat Burners.

Colonel Bell, chief counsel of the rebel steamboat burners now on trial at St. Louis, was closeted for two hours with the President to-day. His conference has especial reference to securing the attendance, as witnesses, of Jeff. Davis, Mallory and Seddon, whose evidence, it is believed, will be of the utmost importance in the case.

Brevet Brigadier-General Wells, Provost Marshal of the defences south of the Potomac, at his own solicitation has been mustered out of service.

The Last Ditch.

Ex-Gov. Lowe, of Maryland, is here anxiously seeking the last ditch.

The Virginia Elections.

There is likely to be some difficulty about the October Congressional elections in Virginia. The law requires that the commissioners shall be appointed by the courts, but there are now no courts to appoint them.

The Next Congress.

Prominent Democratic and reconstructed politicians, who are engaged in figuring upon the character of the next Congress, say that there will be a majority of ten in favor of admitting the Southern members who come prepared to take the test oath.

THE ALABAMA CONVENTION.

The Election Ordinance Passed—Apportionment of Representatives Not Yet Settled.

MONTGOMERY, September 26.—The election ordinance was debated all day and finally agreed to. All State elections to be left to the people are to be held on the first Monday in November. The appointments for representatives raised some discussion, and it will be further debated to-morrow.

A New Swindle.

NEW YORK, September 28.—Some swindler is imposing a new swindling dodge. An envelope is used, purporting to be and having printed upon it in large type "money package American Express Company," and properly addressed and endorsed as coming from the Navy Yard at Washington. The wife of an officer of the Navy was induced to pay seven dollars to the bearer of such a package to-day. She was allowed to open it, and read what appeared to be two telegraph messages of the American Telegraph Company, directing the payment of prize money to her husband. Both the envelope and telegraph blanks had been obtained by theft or other improper manner. The public should be on their guard against the scoundrels.

Highly Interesting.

Forgery Detected—Meeting of Fenians—Statistics of the Order—Female Circles—Bonds for the New Irish Republic—The St. Louis Visitors—Building in Richmond—General Ortega not After a Loan—Late Mexican Items—Return of Gen. Howard—Robert Dale Owen in Washington—Trial of the Winooski and Algonquin to be Continued—Naval Funds—Gen. Pleasanton—Troops to be Mustered Out, &c., &c.

NEW YORK, September 28.—An attempt was made yesterday by a young man to swindle the Park Bank by a forged check on the Chemical Bank, drawn to the order of a late clerk of the former bank. The forgery was detected, but the forger escaped.

The Fenians had an immense meeting at Cooper Institute last night, Colonel O'Mahony presiding. Much enthusiasm prevailed. An address was delivered by Col. Wm. R. Roberts, in the course of which he said: To you, then, fellow-countrymen of every creed and belief, I appeal to stand by the Fenian Brotherhood, and enable them to make the coming revolution successful by furnishing the sinews of war to the brave men who are preparing to strike one more blow for Irish liberty and Irish independence. You cannot stay, no power on earth but that of force, can stay the onward movement of an army of Irish patriots, who are mustering silently and surely from Cork to Donegal, and from Dublin to Connemara, from New York to New Orleans, and from Maine to San Francisco. They will soon be on the march with the harp seen flying in the breeze.

Col. O'Mahony and Hon. John Hogan, of St. Louis, also delivered addresses.

The World gives some alleged facts in reference to the Fenian organization. There are at present about five hundred "Circles" in the country, and they are increasing at the rate of one hundred per month. These "circles" number one hundred to three hundred men. There are also three hundred female circles in the country, presided over by Miss Ellen Mahoney, who is the female head of the centre. She is principal of the Normal School at Chicago. The monthly expenses of the body amount to $60,000, and it is said the tax of twenty dollars a man on the Fenians in the United States is nearly paid up, and the aggregate assessment will reach $500,000.

There is in this city a military engineering class of one hundred, taught by an engineer formerly on McClellan's staff. Subscriptions to large amounts are received every week from all parts of the country. A bank account is kept by the Brotherhood. One of the bank note companies is printing eight per cent. bonds in the name of the Irish Republic. They will be ready next week in denominations of tens, twenties, fifties, one hundred, five hundred and one thousand. In the centre will be a figure of Liberty, drawing a sword, and at the sides vignette of Emmett and Lincoln. It is confidently hoped these will be taken up rapidly, and large orders come from the country and West. It was stated last evening that John Morrissey had offered to take $100,000 of the bonds.

At the Fenian headquarters in Duane street, they are continually boxing up muskets, but of course no information is given as to where they are sent.

The St. Louis Common Council visited the Croton Water Works to-day. They drove through Central Park to the new reservoir. They expressed themselves delighted with the mason work, and new gate-houses lately finished. After partaking of a collation they went to High Bridge. Here they were conducted across the bridge, and inspected the gate-houses, the new main and aqueduct. At Croton dam, they sat down to an excellent dinner, and subsequently returned to the city.

The Richmond Times of Wednesday says: No city after a disastrous fire, ever gave signs of greater enterprise than Richmond does to-day. We hear the opinion everywhere expressed that the whole of Main street will be rebuilt in less than twelve months.

The Herald has a letter from a Mexican exile, stating that there is no foundation for the report that General Ortega has succeeded in effecting a very large loan for the Republic of Mexico, based on the security of confiscated property. It is well known that General Ortega's visit to this country is not at all official, and that he has not the authority nor the intention to place a loan on the market. It is true, Mexico needs money to pay the national troops and supply the necessary means to support their national independence, but General Ortega is not an agent of the Republican Government to negotiate such means.

Mexican accounts in the Herald, say it has been reported that Caravajal and a force of filibusters, estimated as high as five hundred, landed near Tuspan, where they were defeated, and the principal part captured by the Government troops, Caravajal being wounded. The city of Jalapa has been occupied by the Liberal forces under General Alatoree. The Liberal Governor of Peubla, Ferdinando Ortega, had established himself within eight or ten leagues of the capital of Mexico, and has a sufficient force to maintain himself. Communication between Vera Cruz and the capital is daily becoming more difficult. In the State of Guerrero, Gen Alvarez has eight thousand men, and it is known that the Franco-Austro Mexicans have obtained no permanent advantage. The Chasseurs de Afrique, numbering one thousand, are at Fancastequi, in Tamaulipas, and hold only the ground upon which they stand.

The Imperial papers admit the Govement can exercise no authority in the States of Jalisco, Michoacan, San Luis Potosi and others.

The World's Mexican news says reports are current from Vera Cruz that an expedition organized by Ortega, in New York, would reach the vicinity of Bagdad during the month of September.

The dates are from Vera Cruz to the 13th and the city of Mexico to the 19th. Vera Cruz was quiet but there was a good deal of malignant disease. On the 30th of August, reports had been received at the Capitol from General Count Thun, that Captain Lochner with a small command, had been attacked at Tetala Deora on the 17th, by the combined forces of Frothers and Mendez, and after three hours desperate fighting, he drove them from the field, pursuing them to Omeptre. Subsequently Captain Lochner was reinforced by eighty men. On the 19th the forces of Mendez made their appearance on the mountains, but retired on seeing a detachment thrown forward to meet them. Count Thun is determined to relieve that section of country of these bandits.

From Gaudalope de la Frontera, we hear that the dwellings of the people are frequently robbed and burned by Juarez's men from Tobasco. In Queretoro, the authorities have adopted measures which will soon break up all guerrilla bands in that vicinity.

The Tribune's letter says: The great railroad which is to unite Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico was progressing rapidly. Eight hundred wheel-barrows have just been landed at Orizaba for the service of the company. Another railroad is to be established in Sonora by Mr. Wolf, who is to be assisted by several European and California capitalists.

The depredations of Cortinas, who carries the fruits of the plunder he makes on the Mexican border into Texas, have caused a great number of the residents of Matamoras, among them some Americans, to address to General Steele a protest.

The Herald's Washington special says: Gen. Howard is expected to return from his trip of inspection in Virginia on Thursday.

Robt. Dale Owen arrived to-night.

The Times' special says: The Navy Department expresses its determination to continue the dock trial of the Wynooski and Algonquin until the test is completed, as required by the contract, or Mr. Dickerson admits his inability to complete it. As soon as the Algonquin is ready the contest will be renewed.

It appears from the showing in the Fourth Auditor's office that over two million of dollars have accumulated in the naval funds since 1798. This sum is made up of the unclaimed balances due persons employed in the naval services, and fines for desertion, &c. It is proposed to fund this sum, and recommend the passage of an act establishing a home for those who have been injured for life while engaged in the naval service. The distribution will be supported upon the interest of the naval fund.

The World's special says: Major General Pleasanton has been assigned to the command of the Military District of Wisconsin, in the Department of Missouri, with headquarters at Milwaukee.

Internal Revenue receipts to-day were $919,000.

The Tribune's special says: A letter from Raleigh states orders have been issued for the immediate muster-out of the 2d Colorado cavalry, the 3d Illinois cavalry, the 11th Indiana cavalry, 37th Iowa infantry, 14th Missouri cavalry, 12th Tennessee cavalry, 9th Wisconsin battery and the 3d Wisconsin cavalry.

FROM COLORADO.

State Constitution Adopted—Negro Suffrage Defeated.

ST. LOUIS, September 28.—Incomplete returns from Colorado indicate the adoption of the State Constitution by a very large majority. The clause authorizing negro suffrage is defeated.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The steamer Sacramento has arrived from Panama, bringing dates from Acapulco to the 17th inst. The French war ships had landed 500 soldiers and taken possession of the town. Alvarez had previously withdrawn his forces, amounting to 1500 men, badly equipped and short of ammunition, but very enthusiastic. The majority of Mexicans had followed him. He was confident of maintaining the cause of Juarez throughout the interior of Querertoro.

Another three mile race came off between Norfolk and Lodi, at Sacramento, on Saturday. The first mile of the first heat was won by Norfolk in 1:48, two miles in 3:40, and the entire heat in 5:27¾, Norfolk coming out a length ahead of Lodi. The second heat was also won by Norfolk by six lengths, the first mile in 1:47½, and the second in 1:50½.

Fair at Hudson, N. Y.

HUDSON, N. Y., September 28.—The Fair which has been held in this city during the last four days, has been a perfect success. It has been attended by nearly 30,000 people, and the receipts far exceed those of any previous exhibition of the association. Everything passed off to the entire satisfaction of all present, nothing whatever, having occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

Base Ball Clubs at Hartford.

HARTFORD, September 28.—The Atlantics and Charter Oaks played here to-day before a large audience. It was not a pretty game, nor was it played with much spirit on the part of the champions. The game was 37 to 11. Pratt led the score of the winning nine, receiving but two outs to six runs. They left for New York to-night.

Democratic Convention of Massachusetts.

THE NOMINATIONS AND PLATFORM.

WORCESTER, MASS., September 28.—The Democratic State Convention organized by the choice of Edward Avery, of Braintree, for President, with one Vice President from each county, and four Secretaries. The Committee on Credentials reported two hundred and forty-seven towns represented by one thousand and ninety-six delegates. The nominations were made as follows: For Governor, General D. N. Couch, of Taunton; Lieutenant Governor, Thomas F. Plunkett, of Pittsfield; Secretary of State, S. O. Lamb, of Greenfield; Treasurer, T. C. Amory, Jr., of Boston; Auditor, A. T. Devereaux, of Salem; Attorney General, H. C. Parker, of Cambridge.

The following is an abstract of the resolutions adopted: The first affirms the creed of the Democratic party to be the Union and the Constitution; its objects, the preservation of the liberties of the people in the Union, a free press and free speech.

The second thanks the soldiers and sailors.

The third requires the speedy subordination everywhere of the military to the civil power, the restoration of the writ of habeas corpus, trial by jury, and other democratic rights.

The fourth recognizes the obligation to pay the national debt, but does not believe in putting the whole burden of taxation on the shoulders of the producing classes.

The fifth requires a speedy restoration of State power everywhere, so that a standing army may be dispensed with at once.

The sixth fully indorses the policy of President Johnson, and promises him support.

The seventh returns thanks to the veterans of the war, and is in favor of such legislation by the National and State Governments as shall secure equality of compensation to the earlier as well as the later soldiers of the war.

The eighth refers to the labor question, and says: "We not only recognize any attempt on the part of the working classes to better their condition, but heartily approve any movement having for its aim their elevation, comfort and well being, physical and mental, and cordially sympathize with any measure by which the true interests of the employer and employee can be promoted and secured."

THE CANVASS IN VIRGINIA.

Dr. Woods Withdraws from the Contest

BALTIMORE, September 28.—Richmond and Petersburg papers of to-day are received. Dr. Woods, of Albemarle, has withdrawn from the Congressional canvass in the Sixth District, because he could not take the oath. He has issued a card, and says: "Recent indications and information convince me, beyond a shadow of doubt, that there will be no repeal or modification, and our only hope of being represented at all is to select men who can take the oath as it now stands. Honestly and conscientiously entertaining this opinion, no alternative is left me but to withdraw from the canvass, when it is perfectly obvious that our noble President, standing as he does as a great breakwater between the radicals of the North and our prostrate country."

The Republic accompanies the card with the remark that the field is thus left open to Mr. Lewis and Mr. Sandy Stuart. Mr. Lewis can very consistently take the congressional test oath. Mr. Stuart's conscience prevents him. The Republic also says the people of Hanover county were addressed on Thursday last by Mr. Johnson Barbour. From all the information we receive, there is no longer any doubt that Barbour will carry every county in the district.

The Lynchburg Republican says, one of the most distinguished gentlemen of the State, whose name we are not permitted to give, writes as follows in regard to the eligibility of the congressional candidate:—I regard it as absurd—not to say criminal, in people under existing circumstances to select such men. A man who is not and knows he is not eligible, ought not in these times of trial and trouble to thrust himself before the people, but if he does so, the people ought to have the good sense to rebuke him.

Death of Captain Sanford.

BOSTON, September 28.—Captain Edward H. Sanford, widely known as one of the principal owners of Sanford's Line of steamers, between this city and Bangor, died at St. Catharines Springs, Canada West, on Wednesday, of congestion of the lungs.

GREAT OCEAN ENTERPRISES.

Revival of American Commerce—The North American Lloyds.

If we may judge from the number of new maritime enterprises which are being inaugurated in the cities of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and the general activity which is manifest in nearly all the shipyards from Maine to Savannah, we think we shall not greatly err when we assert that the heavy losses which the American shipping interest has sustained from the depletion of our fleet, through captures by the Confederate Vikings and the transfer to neutral flags within the four years of war from which we have but just emerged, is in a fair way of being retrieved. On every hand we see indications that the recuperative energy which forms one of the chief characteristics of the American people, will again manifest itself in a marked degree, and the hope is indulged that the period of recovery from the effect of the late most disastrous war will be very much more brief than the most sanguine of us have deemed possible. And this, too, in spite of the fact that England and France, recognizing the fact that this is the most favorable time to extend their commercial facilities, are putting forth renewed efforts to build up their maritime commerce. Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston are doing their utmost—aided by an enlightened press—to forward enterprises of this character, and from prevailing indications, it will not be long before each of these cities will boast its European line of steamers. Our own city—the commercial entrepot of the North American continent—though not quite so energetic in this connection as we would like to see her, nevertheless maintains her advanced position, and is rapidly extending her commercial relations and enlarging her commercial steam fleet. The "North American Lloyd"—the latest project of this character, represented by an association which proposes to connect New York and Bremen by a line of American steamships—recognizes the necessity of multiplying the steam communication between these ports, as also the fact that the conclusion of the war has given an impulse to transatlantic commerce and emigration, calculated not only to encourage, but emphatically to demand the speedy restoration of the American shipping business to its former dimensions and activity; and the projectors declare that the ground abandoned to neutral flags during the war must be regained by redoubled energy. The new enterprise, the projectors assert, is sure of fully as favorable a reception in Bremen as in New York. The public and Government of the old Hanseatic emporium endorse and encourage it, fully appreciating the direct and indirect advantages held out to the community by such an increase of commercial intercourse, and the most efficient means of transportation. We learn that a readiness to waive port charges in favor of the new line, and to give them the carriage of the German mail, has been officially indicated. An opportunity offers for the purchase of two first-class ocean steamers, which will be ready for sea in a few weeks hence, and which can be procured at the moderate price, including all repairs and furniture, say $250,000 each. As such a transaction admits of no delay, and as assurances facilitating the purchase have been given by several parties, it is proposed to establish the "North American Lloyd" as a joint stock company, under the general law of the State of New York, with a working capital of one million of dollars, to be divided into ten thousand shares of $100 each, and to purchase the two steamers in question, and commence operations as soon as the subscription will have reached $500,000. A formal meeting of the subscribers is soon to be called, we learn, for the purpose of adopting the proper regulations, &c. We trust that this enterprise will receive every encouragement, and that the North American Lloyd's will soon be in successful operation.—Shipping List.

Mr. C. J. Richardson, in a letter in the London Times, says his boiler at Woolwich Dockyard has shown that petroleum is fifty per cent. more powerful than the best coal as steam fuel, that it can be burned with ease, and without danger.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—There is no gainsaying the fact that the new Opera House is popular. Its light, cheerful appearance attracts the public, and the character of the audience attests the appreciation awarded by the community to Mr. Gardiner's liberal arrangements. We desire to say particularly, that the orchestra grades higher than the average of former years in the average of Pittsburgh performances. Whether it is individual skill, or a happy selection of music, we can hardly say, but certainly the effect is very pleasant. One feature, we are sure, has much to do with its success—that is, the kettle drum. Why, we do not know, but it is certainly an important addition to the orchestra of a theater. East Lynne was well played last evening. Some of the latter scenes were triumphs indeed for Miss Denin. Of the conflict between the mother's love and the guilty wife's remorse, we can only say, it stirred the depths of genuine emotion; and we do not know that any acting can do more. Having witnessed Miss Denin's delineation of comedy as well as tragedy, however, we must give it as our candid opinion that comedy is her forte, decidedly. The verdict of the audience generally last night, we think, settled the question, and we say to all who enjoy genuine entertainment, see Miss Denin in her serio comic parts. Oliver Twist is in preparation, and a rich treat may be expected.

THEATRE.—Miss Laura Keene will take her farewell benefit at this establishment this evening, upon which occasion the intensely exciting drama of "The Workmen of New York," will be presented for the fifth and last time. This piece has been witnessed by large audiences every night since its first presentation, and would prove equally successful if continued on the boards for another week. Miss Keene's engagement will close to-morrow night, and on Monday evening Annette Ince and Mr. J. H. Taylor will appear.

THE REGATTA.

Preparations for Saturday.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Arrival of the New York Crew.

Our Crew on the River Yesterday.

The New Boat and How She Goes.

To-morrow is the day appointed for the Pittsburgh Regatta, and thousands of our people have been looking forward to that event with the expectation of seeing a real race between the leading oarsmen of the country. There is one thing connected with the regatta which should be borne in mind, and that is that it has not been gotten up for gambling purposes, but with the view of encouraging our young men in the pursuit of common sense sport—amusement which furnishes at the same time physical health, and moral growth, by absorbing the surplus time of persons who might otherwise be led into the paths of vice. The gentlemen who have subscribed towards the prize fund for this regatta, are from among our leading citizens, and it is their desire to have in Pittsburgh, such out door amusements as will gratify not only those who take part in them, but also those who witness them, without making it necessary to travel to New York, Boston, or elsewhere for the same purpose.

Boat racing is always popular. It has always been an exceedingly interesting sport in this city, and there is no reason why it should sink in the public estimation; nor will it, as long as the standard is cared for by such gentleman as have charge of the arrangements for the regatta to-morrow. They have resolved that the Pittsburgh lovers of aquatic sports shall have an opportunity to see the best oarsmen in America, in a friendly contest, and that the city may be made, for one day at least, the centre of a general good time.

It is hoped that nothing will occur during the regatta to mar the pleasure, either of the oarsmen or the spectators; that everything will be done in the most amicable spirit, and that when our visiting oarsmen leave for their homes, whether they win or loose in the contest, they will go away feeling that when next, Pittsburgh has a regatta, they will be on hand to make another effort. We have never had a four oared contest here, except between our own men, hence we expect that the presence of the New York men on the Monongahela to-morrow will add an interest to boating, and will tend to make that exercise more generally liked. For this reason our visitors from all quarters will receive, as they ought, the best of treatment.

It was whispered about town yesterday that the Ward brothers intended to come down on our boys suddenly, and that they would enter the contest for the $500 prize. Upon inquiry we could not obtain any information calculated to confirm the report, but our Pittsburgh crew are very desirous that the Wards should take a chance, and endeavor to add to their newly won laurels. They cannot surprise us, for our boys were hard at work yesterday, and will be to-day, preparing themselves to "go in" for the first prize.

As the public generally, are deeply interested in the regatta, it is hoped that all persons having charge of steamboats, ferry boats, barges, &c., will aid the officers in preserving order, and keeping the course clear, by moving every obstruction out of the way, so that the contestants may have fair play. We are sure this desire will be complied with, as the races will not continue an unreasonable length of time.

Our citizens may rely upon the fairness of all the arrangements, as the gentlemen immediately interested are too well known for square dealing to allow, or to approve of anything that would be calculated to prevent the public havin the utmost amount of gratification. Among these gentlemen are James Lowry, Jr., Mayor; ex-Mayor, Hon. Henry A. Weaver; Charles H. Paulson, Esq., David Holmes, Esq., W. W. Ward, Esq., Joseph Fleming Esq., and others, whose names give a sufficient guarantee for general good order.

The Pittsburgh crew were out on the river yesterday afternoon, and rowed down the Monongahela, round the point and up the Allegheny, as far as Hand street bridge, making excellent time. They like their new boat well, and speak of it in high terms of praise. This boat was made by McKay, in the shop of Mr. Steven Roberts, of Harlem, New York. She is built of Spanish cedar, highly polished; is forty-two feet six inches long, twenty-one inches wide and eight inches deep.

MEETING OF THE SUBSCRIBERS.

A meeting of the subscribers to the Regatta Fund of September 30th, was held at the Duquesne Engine House, in Smithfield street, last evening. In the absence of the President, Joseph Fleming, Esq., the Hon. Henry A. Weaver, was called to the chair.

On motion of John Paisley. Esq., the following gentlemen were appointed judges of the regatta:

Charles H. Paulson, Esq.,	Robert Jackson, Esq.,
James Scott, Esq.,	David Holmes, Esq.,
W. W. Ward, Esq.,	R. W. Elliott, Esq.
Henry A. Weaver, Esq.,

The Judges will draw for positions on Saturday, in time to notify the crews entered at that time.

The Committee return thanks for the courtesy extended them by the members of the Duquesne Engine Company, for the use of their elegant room for their meetings.

Towboats and ferry boats will please, as a matter of courtesy to the strangers present at the Regatta, keep off the course during the hours of the race.

W. W. WARD, Secretary.

THE NEW YORK CREW.

The New York crew were expected to arrive in the city last evening, but at one o'clock this morning they had not come. When they do come they will put up at the St. Cloud Hotel, on Ross street, and their boat will be housed alongside the new boat belonging to the Pittsburgh crew in their house.

Another Confidence Game.

Yesterday afternoon, about two o'clock, a man was noticed running down Fifth street at a rapid pace, closely followed by an excited individual who appeared very anxious to overtake the fugitive. A crowd of idlers followed the parties, in order to discover what was the matter, but they were unable to unravel the mystery, until the pursuer stopped and related the following story: He stated he was a drover, and had just arrived from the East on his way to the West to purchase stock. While on the cars he made the acquaintance of a man who professed to be engaged in the same business, when they became quite intimate and agreed to travel together. Upon the arrival of the train at the depot, they were approached by a young man who presented a bill to the drover's new friend for $1,550, and requested him to pay it. The man stated that he could not pay the amount at that time, but if he would accompany him to the Custom House he would liquidate the debt, as he had a check for $2,500, payable at that place. The debtor stated that he wished to leave on the next train, and had not time to go with him, when the drover offered to advance the money. The offer was accepted with thanks, when the desired amount was produced and paid over. The two men then started towards the Custom House, but while passing along Smithfield street, the drover was astonished by the sudden disappearance of his friend into an adjoining alley, where he hid himself. The suspicions of the drover were then awakened when he instituted a search and succeeded in uncovering his friend who ran into the postoffice yard, and after the race above related, succeeded in making his escape. The stranger was recommended to go to the Mayor's office and inform the police of the occurrence, which he did, but it is probable the confidence man will succeed in evading detection. The drover has learned a valuable lesson, and will not hereafter place implicit confidence in the friendship of persons he happens to meet in the cars.

PITTSBURGH STEEL.—The correspondent of the Missouri Democrat, having visited the tool manufacturing works of William Sellers & Co. and the Baldwin locomotive works, in Philadelphia, writes thus on the subject of Pittsburgh steel: "While here (Sellers & Co's), as well as at the Baldwin locomotive works, I made inquiry concerning the use of the Pittsburgh steel we saw in that city. The Baldwin's manager informed me that they used it, liked it, and thought it as good as the best English steel; and Sellers & Co. require the very highest standard. The very best superfine is demanded for making machine tools, and young Mr. Sellers told me they used large quantities of Pittsburgh steel, and liked it. They sometimes found fault with its uniformity, but not enough to justify giving English steel a preference. This is the very highest sort of testimony, as the parties just named have no object in praising American steel, and merely speak of it as business men of practical experience."

RECKLESS SHOOTING.—A young lad named Matthew Wells, was arrested yesterday, for the reckless use of firearms in the Diamond Market House. The lad, in company with another boy, visited the Market House for the purpose of shooting rats, and after scaring the game away, erected a target on one of the doors and fired at it with a pistol. The pistol was loaded with shot, which penetrated the door, and struck a chair in front of Mr. Hart's tavern, but fortunately it was not occupied at the time. Young Wells was arrested on a charge of malicious mischief, and held to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars.

NOMINEES FOR PRESIDENT JUDGE.—The Union Judicial Conferees of Washington, Greene, and Fayette counties met at Waynesburg on Monday, and Mr. R. W. Downey having declined in favor of Hon. J. K. Ewing, Mr. Ewing was unanimously nominated as the Union candidate for President Judge. The Democratic Conferees of the same district have nominated the Hon. Samuel A. Gilmore for the same office. Mr. Ewing, the Union candidate, is an able jurist, an upright citizen and a christian gentleman.

A NEW CHURCH AT MONONGAHELA CITY.—A Methodist church is about to be erected at Monongahela City. It is to be in the Norman style, will contain one hundred and twenty-six pews, capable of seating comfortably, one thousand persons.

NOT IMPROVING.—The condition of John Sullivan, who was injured by Thomas Gillespie, on Wednesday, at the Valley Hotel, on Penn street, near Lawrenceville, had not improved yesterday, and fears are entertained by his physicians that he will not recover.

THE TITLE OF PITTSBURGH.—The Monongahela Republican, says "We presume Pittsburgh derived its name from the number of coal pits along the Monongahela river. After getting off this joke the editor drew a long breath. He was last seen at the Postoffice.

VINEGAR.—Mr. A. Ballou, the well-known vinegar manufacturer, on Second street, having enlarged his works, is prepared to fill all orders with promptness and dispatch.

PRETENDED FRIENDS, THE WORST ENEMIES OF THE SOUTH.

The loyalty of the country has just conquered its armed and open enemies in the field. It has another victory to achieve at the approaching elections. This, though prospective, is as sure as the former, which is historic. The same sterling patriotism which secured the one will effect the other. The same interest is involved and the same parties are arrayed, the one for and the other against that interest. It is not, however, mere victory that we strive for, but the peace, order, social happiness, and financial prosperity throughout the whole land.

The great hindrance to this attainment is the unhappy and disappointed factions of demagogues which prolonged the conflict of arms by the encouragement they held out to the rebels to persevere in their unhallowed rebellion. They present the same hindrance to the success of reconstructive measures which have for their object the integrity, uniqueness and amity of the Union, by the friendly and vigorous concurrence of all the States which compose it, and the hindrance is presented in substantially the same way, that is, by holding out to the disloyalty of the South hopes of such a coalition with that in the North, that the combined force of the two will be able to defeat the Unionism of the country at some future general election. They themselves hope, and they encourage the disloyal sentiment of the South to hope, that they will thus have public affairs managed to suit both, by an administration of their joint choosing.

In this course they are doing the Southern people an injury of the same kind that they have done them during the war, by postponing their honest and full submission to the laws of the Union, and thus protracting the losses and inconveniences which they have brought upon themselves by their rebellion against the laws. The Union party is the true friend of the South, and desires to see it in the enjoyment of that peace, order and prosperity which it lost by the rebellion. The party which encourages it to persist in its evil course, and to cherish its sectional purposes, is its greatest enemy. The safety of the country, and the welfare of the States lately in insurrection, require a total and thorough defeat of the sectional and unpatriotic party which has opposed the Government in the whole of its policy during the war, and which is now opposed to it as much as it has been at any previous time. The politicians of the South need not wait for the elections here, to be assured that any expectations they may indulge of effective aid from the opposition party in the North, in furtherance of disloyal and diversive schemes, is doomed to disappointment. And, the sooner they learn who their best friends are, and where their true interests lie, the better it will be for them. The elections will not show more clearly than the actions of the loyal people have shown it, that the Union is to be preserved, and that sectional and party interests and schemes in opposition to it, are doomed to defeat and disappointment. Let the Union voice be heard, announcing that doom loudly and strongly at the ballot-boxes on the second Tuesday of October.

THE QUESTION OF CONSOLIDATION.

From the expressions which have been made through the columns of the COMMERCIAL and in private conversation, we are persuaded that there is little or no opposition to the proposition to consolidate under one government the city of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the adjacent boroughs. We are persuaded that the almost universal judgment is that this would be for the interests of all concerned—in fact, that the interests of all concerned absolutely require this. When the details come to be arranged, there may and probably will be a variety of views and purposes, though we believe they will be readily harmonized.

Although the feeling of approval of which we have spoken is all but universal, there is not, we are sorry to say, the disposition we could wish to see manifested by leading citizens to take hold of the matter and give it the attention which, from its importance, it should receive, and without which, after all, nothing will be rightly consummated. We know that our business men have their attention occupied,—but we respectfully suggest that this is a piece of business which is as much worthy of their attention as anything that can be named. We fear that this is not the whole of the reason why leading citizens abstain from giving active attention to public questions. We fear it has grown to be too much the way with them to leave to others the management of questions wherein they think they are not immediately interested personally. Where there is anything like a general disposition thus to act—rather not to act—of course nothing will be done as it should be done,—and thus public spirit dies out and the city falls behind in the race for business and consequence. We confess to a disposition to speak of such a spirit, if it really does exist here, in the strongest terms of reprobation. The bees have a law relative to drones that might be applied to some communities with good effect. Perhaps it would not be quite right to speak of persons indifferent to everything but their own interests as drones—nevertheless such indifference to the common welfare among the bees would not be overlooked, because where such a spirit prevailed there would be no honey—no permanent prosperity in the hive.

Our object is to draw the attention of leading citizens more directly to the importance of taking hold of the question of consolidating into one Pittsburgh the brood of cities and boroughs which divide and weaken what, united, would be a great city, strong in numbers and action. We think we may say with tolerable certainty that if they do not take the management of the question, it will be managed by other, and, after all, perhaps, in some respects, better hands. Consolidation is a natural event to occur. It will come according to the law of Progress, which cannot be arrested, and which goes neither around nor stops short to gratify indifference or opposition, but right on and over everybody and everything not possessed of the sagacity to get out of the way. It sometimes happens that men absorbed in business need to have their attention drawn to public matters in which they, in common with the whole community, have a direct interest. We prefer, as to the question of consolidation, to believe that no part of the community is really indifferent, that all will manifest the requisite public spirit, and bestow the necessary time, when once they realize what their duty is. However others may be dubious on this point, we do not permit ourselves to doubt,—and we count confidently on seeing leading citizens taking hold of and giving direction to the question of consolidation, which only awaits their control,—which if they do not take, others will.

THE LAST DAY OF ASSESSMENTS.

This is the last day for procuring assessments preparatory to voting on Tuesday, October 10. Let delinquents act promptly, lest they find themselves shut out from the ballot box.

JOHN BULL IN A FUME.—The Fenians have disturbed JOHN BULL not a little. Already the British navy is in motion, and "arbitrary arrests," which was the staple of the London Times in declaiming against our Government, are the order of the day. The Fenians are said to swarm everywhere, all over Ireland,—defection is said to have tainted the British army to an alarming extent, and Fenianism, on the whole, in the eyes of JOHN BULL, is scarcely less alarming than the Cholera or the Cattle disease. We know we ought to feel concerned for the result—and we feel confident that the universal Yankee will forthwith conjure up the proper sort of feeling on account of our loving cousins.

WILL the Post just keep its fingers out of other peoples' pie? We wish it to understand that our affair with our ancient cotemporary is "none of its funeral."

WHAT IS DEMANDED OF THE SOUTH.

Judge BYRD, of Alabama, who, not long since, came to Washington for the purpose of having an interview with the President, publishes a letter in which he says, from what he heard at Washington he believes it is expected that the South will—

First—Declare the African race free by the organic law of each State.

Second—That each State will secure and guarantee by her Constitution civil rights to the freedmen; political rights, such as suffrage, sitting on juries, &c., are not expected to be conferred on them at this time; these are matters to be left to the discretion of the several States.

But the freedom of the African race and the guaranty of their civil rights are prerequisites to the reconstruction of State Governments and their readmission to the Union.

The question, then, is narrowed down to this: Will we make a Constitutional declaration of the freedom of the African race and a guaranty of their civil rights, or remain indefinitely under a military government?

We suspect that is pretty nearly it,—at all events, the reverse of the proposition, as to the African race, would probably keep the Southern States—"African race" and all—a long time out in the cold.

SOMETHING USEFUL.

"COLBY'S Improved Flour and Meal Sifter" is a new patent of the utility class, which we can unqualifiedly recommend. It requires no great penetration or severe testing to be sure of that. It is a substitute for the sieve, and is at the same time a cullender. In fact, it is a kitchen utensil which no good housewife, after she has seen it, will dispense with. It is moreover cheap, and will be an article of universal use in all well regulated kitchens. EVANS & BLOOD, 67 Fourth street, have the sale of county rights.

"VICE PRESIDENT" STEPHENS.—There is a movement on foot to procure the pardon of ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, so that he may take a hand at the form of reconstruction in Georgia. This no doubt will excite the indignation of many, who perhaps may save themselves some confusion, if they will stop for a moment to ascertain that this is a New England movement chiefly, and that men are in it whom it would not be safe to call Copperheads or rebel sympathizers. The movement may succeed, and we deem it best to remind persons who can see no good in anything done by President JOHNSON, in the pardon line, that it may be well to temper their indignation, or they may be found arrayed against some very good friends of the Union and Freedom.

THE STATE FAIR.—The Pennsylvania State Fair is in progress at Williamsport. The locality renders the Fair one for the Northern part rather than the whole State; and there does not appear to have been at the opening a very high promise of extraordinary success. But there was a lively expectation that stock and articles for display would yet arrive. The names of a good many celebrities are announced among the arrivals—apparently the most conspicuous feature of the show.

LET it be understood that a law of Congress disfranchises all who ran away from the draft and became deserters. There are not a few of this sort of sneaks in every district. It is a simple duty which every loyal citizen owes to the country, to inform against them. Let a sharp eye be kept out for them.

PERSONAL.

—William J. Duane died in Philadelphia early this week, aged eighty-five years. Those who can cast their memory so far back will remember him as the Secretary of the Treasury under General Jackson, at which time his career was stamped lastingly in the history of this country. The son of one of the earliest and most influential politicians of the country, when politics meant honesty and earnestness and ability, Mr. Duane grew up to be an active leading spirit in public affairs. The grandson, and by a double tie the representative of Dr. Franklin, he showed fairly the training of that wise and great man, and thus commended himself to his townsmen. But Mr. Duane had high qualities of his own, and he was not a man to be contented with transmitting the honors of his ancestors. Full of zeal, of industry, and of ability, he soon won for himself a leading place among the truly great warriors of half a century ago, and his reputation is still cherished at the bar as that of a man who was the peer of the giants of his day, and able to cope with them. As the counsel of Mr. Girard, the legal guardian of his great fortune, and the guiding hand of the will which transmitted his vast inheritance to the city of Philadelphia, in trust for its orphans, Mr. Duane is fairly entitled to a large share of local honor. It was only within a brief interval of his last illness that a great officer of the nation, a representative man in every sense, asked for and obtained a long interview with Mr. Duane, and the result of the visit showed that the venerable man had attained something of a prophet's strain. Fully alive to all the changes in the country, his old experience still served those who had been entrusted with the duties of the day, and he was to the last ready and able to serve his country. As a raconteur, as a living treasure of local history—as a genial and ever fresh source of stories that were better than history, Mr. Duane will be best remembered. His personal activity, his quick motions, his short, lithe, well-proportioned body, his bright eye, his long, soft hair, all seemed to be and to make part of his story; and his wonderful memory was the treasure-house of his jewels, and his perfect art in drawing out his incidents was the setting that gave them double worth and interest.

—We learn from the Philadelphia Press that Mr. Edwin Forrest has nearly recovered from his protracted illness, and that he "will begin a course of Shakspeare in the New England towns about the middle of next month, in almost his usual splendid health." The Press adds: "It is known that Mr. Forrest, in his anxiety to improve his own profession, some time ago projected a kind of theatrical school, and erected a neat brick addition to his residence, to which he removed his noble picture gallery, and in which he established, on a small but perfect model, his stage, auditorium, orchestra, &c., for the accommodation of the youth of both sexes who might be so fortunate as to obtain admission to his college. His long illness and necessary absence in his personations at the theatres, have only postponed, let us hope, the fulfilment and prosecution of this noble design. We believe it is his intention to secure the services of some old and experienced actor, of tried integrity and character, to superintend this institution."

—The Chambersburgh Repository says there will be three clergymen returned to the Senate this fall. Rev. James L. Graham, the Union nominee in Allegheny, is a local Methodist minister a most worthy gentleman, and made one of the most efficient Senators in the body. Rev. Geo. Landon, just nominated in the Bradford district, is an old Methodist minister, and was Presiding Elder for many years. He was chosen to the Senate in 1859, and will be returned this fall by an overwhelming majority. He is one of the ablest men of the North, and as fearless and true as he is able. Rev. Robert A. Browne, formerly pastor of the Second Associate Reformed Church of Pittsburgh, and at present pastor of the same church in New Castle, is the Union candidate for Senator in the Lawrence, Butler, and Armstrong district. He entered the service as Chaplain of the Roundhead regiment, and served until near the close of the war. He is an able debater, an earnest Union man, and will make a useful and creditable Senator.

—An Austrian nobleman and jurist, Max Edler von Stubenrauch, professor of the University of Vienna, and his wife, poisoned themselves a few weeks ago, in order to escape from the investigation of his frauds upon the relief and savings bank for working people and servants, the funds of which had been committed to his trust. His friends had collected $.0,000 to enable him to make up the amount, but, when they called at his house, they found the professor and his wife dead in bed.

—The Round Table tells an odd story of Bossisio, Maretzek's new prima donna, who arrived in Boston by the Cunard steamer last week. When the steamer was coming up the harbor the usual sainte was fired; and poor Bossisio, frightened nearly to death, fell down upon the deck in terror. She had the impression that a naval engagement was about to commence, her rather vague ideas of our civil war leading her to suppose that the Confederates were on the point of attacking Boston. It is hoped that the young lady understands more about singing than she does about politics.

—Jean Paul, in "Hesperus," gives this good-humored sarcasm on his own countrymen. We quote from Mr. Brooks's new translation: "For I understand the Germans. They want, like the metaphysician, to know every thing from the beginning onward, very exactly, in royal octavo, without excessive brevity, and with some citata. They furnish an epigram with a preface, and a love-madrigal with a table of contents;—they determine the zephyr by compass and the heart of a maiden by conic sections; they mark every thing, like merchants, in black letter, and prove every thing, like jurists; their cerebral membranes are living parchments, their legs private surveyor's poles and pedometers; they cut up the veil of the Nine Muses, and apply to the hearts of these damsels turners' compasses and insert gauging rods in their heads."

—Foreign ministers who come wifeless to this country, cannot remain long here without being captivated by the charms of American ladies. The wife of Count Sartiges, late French ambassador, and now at Rome; the widow of the late Russian ambassador Bodisco, and the wife of his successor at Washington, Baron Stoeckl; the Italian minister's wife; the wife of the Belgian secretary of legation, and a number of other ladies married to foreign diplomatists, are all American, and the Swedish minister is engaged to marry a Bostonian. The English ministers, Mr. Crampton and Lord Lyons, were the only exceptions to this almost general rule. Mr. Crampton returned from this country as he came—a bachelor. After an unfortunate alliance with an English musical lady, Miss Balfe, he is again restored to single life, and Lord Lyons is still unmarried.

—Hon. Townsend Haines, who held an important position in the Treasury Department some years ago, and filled it with conspicuous ability and integrity, died at his residence, West Chester, Pennsylvania, on Thursday evening last, the 21st inst., in the seventy-fourth year of his age. A ripe scholar, a fine poet, a finished orator, an incorruptible judge, and a fervent and high-souled patriot, he died in the fear and the love of God, and at peace with all his fellow-men.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The bids for the purchase of the United States Military Railroad Rolling Mills, at Chattanooga, were opened at noon on the 14th inst., at the Quartermaster General's office. Only two bids were received, one from Mr. E. M. Spied, of Cincinnati, of $20,000, and Mr. Ward H. Lamon, of Washington City, of $50,000. The mill, which was built during Sherman's campaign, cost the Government about $300,000, and is furnished with machinery of the most improved pattern. It is not believed that the Government will part with it at the low price offered. If sold, however, Mr. Lamon is evidently the successful bidder.

A remarkable "medium," in the person of a little girl, twelve years old, is now exciting the wonder of the residents of Springfield, Massachusetts. After being locked in a square wooden cabinet with her hands tightly tied behind her back and fastened securely to a ring in the back of the cabinet, she ties and unties knots in cords, places a ring on any finger, in her ear, in her lap, plays on a drum and triangle, rings a bell, talks plainly with a large block of wood in her mouth, changes a brass hoop from her neck to one foot and vice versa.

A gentleman who had the curiosity to spend a dime in answering an advertisement which promised valuable advice for that amount, received by mail the following answer: Friend, for your ten cents postage, please find enclosed advice which may be of great value to you. As many persons are injured for weeks, months and years by the careless use of a knife, my advice is, when you use a knife, always whittle from you.

An Italian journal, l'Italie mentions the curious fact of a Florentine lady, after having given birth to a healthy child, was soon again in an interesting condition, and gave birth to another robust infant twenty-five days after the first accouchement.

A lady came into the Mayor's court at Norfolk, Va., and exhibited the claw of a young cat which she had extracted from sausages purchased of a colored man who sells meat, &c., in the market. The Mayor referred the case to the military authorities.

FROM BLAIRSVILLE.

Passing Events—Distinguished Visitors—Musical—County Fair—Races to Come Off—Soldiers' Union.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., September 28, 1865.

This town and its denizens are still on the flourish, and things seem to be passing agreeably to all classes. Fall, robbing summer of its hot and sultry atmosphere, and giving us a cool, refreshing breeze, is again coming upon us, and with it the necessary preparations of our merchants in the way of providing all classes with new and handsome dress goods from Eastern cities, the quantity of which may be guessed at by the piles of boxes, etc., on the sidewalks.

A noticeable fact, day before yesterday morning, was every person we met going toward the railroad passenger depot. What the attraction was we could not conjecture, and no one seemed to be disposed to enlighten us on the subject; the idea struck me very forcibly that "when in Rome we should do as Romans do," and so thinking, I slowly wended my way up town to the designated vicinity, and found the attraction to be centred in the fact that we had quite a lot of dignitaries in town. On the front veranda of the Myers House, having a sociable smoke and chat, I found His Excellency Andrew Gregg Curtin, Hon. John Covode, Hon. T. J. Coffrey, Colonel Bigham, and several other Honorable gentlemen whose names I did not learn. They were on their way to Indiana, but were delayed in town some three hours by the schedule time of trains departing for that point. After giving audience to some of our most respectable citizens, they, in company with our townsman, the Hon. J. C. Shannon, left on the 1:10 train north. Success attend them.

In my perambulations around town last evening, I was attracted by swelling strains of music which appeared to come from the Everett House. On seeking the gentlemen's parlor, I found quite a number of young men engaged in discoursing music which was indeed very good. I found it was the intention of the meeting to perfect the arrangements for raising a Silver Horn Band, under the leadership of Prof. McKissen, formerly of the army of the Potomac. It will consist of some twelve pieces, some of which are already on hand. This may rightly be called the reorganization of the old band, which was broken up some years ago on account of the members going to the army. In the course of a few months, with liberal practice, we predict this band will be able to compete with any country band in the State, all the members having experience in the art.

Perhaps it would not be out of place to notify some of our country cousins at a distance that we are going to have a Fair. The Seventh Annual Exhibition and Fair of the Conemaugh Valley Agricultural Society will be held on their ground, adjoining Blairsville, commencing on the 11th and ending on the 13th of October next. From the liberal premiums offered on their lists I predict for them a good turn in in the way of tickets and entry checks, and a good turn out in the way of "stamps." This is an old Society, and the surrounding country appears to be able to support it for time to come. There is some talk of a foot-race for $100 a side, to come off on the last day of the Fair, but the parties concerned have not yet positively declared their intention to run. I am not at liberty to mention names, but if the race can be perfected, there will be nothing left undone to have it come off. Should the parties come to time, I may write you full particulars of the affair again.

I almost forgot to mention the fact of a meeting of the returned soldiers of Blairsville and vicinity, in the Town Hall, this evening; the object of the meeting, as I learn, is to form a Soldiers' Union. From sufficient notice given they expect a full house of the "boys," and a pleasant time to all parties concerned. It is whispered that the Hon. P. C. Shannon will address the meeting, and that, in itself, is sufficient to draw a crowded house. This desire of soldiers throughout the Union to form themselves into bodies or societies appears to be met with success. The idea of the "Union," or the nature of the By-laws or Constitutions of these societies, we know not, but be they what they may, they are gaining considerable popularity through the Eastern States, and in the course of time we may look to see the whole returned Union veterans consolidated into one grand chain of Unions, connected by ties of love for the Union and Constitution which they so nobly defended in the field. And why not form themselves into societies? Why not perfect arrangements which will keep their memory before the world? They have, indeed, ample cause to wish to sustain their name which they have risked so much to gain, and to perpetuate the memory of their fallen brother heroes, who, though absent, are not forgotten. I am getting patriotic, and may get "prosy" if I indulge to a greater extent; so, with this, I will close, bidding you and your many readers a farewell. Bon jour. L. S. S.

FROM STEUBENVILLE.

The Unknown Body—Reprehensible Conduct—The Mayor Doing His Duty—Pittsburgh and Steubenville R. R.

Special Correspondence to Pittsburgh Commercial.

STEUBENVILLE, Sept. 28, 1865.

I have heard a great deal of complaint in regard to the treatment which the body received that was found in the river opposite this city on Monday morning. It appears that the body was found in the morning early, and immediately after the Mayor summoned a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest, which occupied in all about half an hour, and the body was allowed to lay in that position until after four o'clock in the afternoon, with the sun beating down upon it all this time. If this be true, and I do not think it will be denied, there is a screw loose; it is not only a shame but a disgrace to the city, and those who permitted it. If we have no laws that will cover such bases, that will make officers do their duty in these respects, let a little humanity be substituted, and not make a farce of such matters any longer. If we cannot exhibit some degree of feeling and decency in such cases, in the name of humanity let the bodies go adrift and save the city's credit as well as the county the expense.

Jacob Jackson, a dealer in the ardent, was brought before the Mayor on Tuesday, for selling liquor to a man when he had been notified not to do so. The consequence was, he was mulcted in the sum of ten dollars and costs, with the assurance from his honor that if brought before him again he would give him the full extent of the law. The Mayor says if the citizens will just do their duty in such cases he will do his, all of which is very gratifying.

Trains commence running over the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad, regularly, on and after Monday, 2d proximo. A gentleman at my elbow says that the fare over the new route is to be fixed at two dollars, and if that is the case he will patronize the old route. So will others, and I expect that if this catches the eye of the officers of that road they will immediately reduce the fare, or give us a pass, just to get into good company! LIMERICK, JR.

DIED:

LINDSEY—On Thursday afternoon, at twenty minutes past 5 o'clock, after a lingering illness, JAMES LINDSEY, in the 29th year of his age.

AGENTS WANTED TO SELL
SHERMAN AND HIS CAMPAIGNS;
BY COL. S. M. BOWMAN AND LT. COL. R. B. IRWIN.
One Volume 8vo; 500 Pages. Cloth, $3 50.
WITH EIGHT SPLENDID STEEL PORTRAITS, AND MAPS, PLANS, &c.

This work—written by Col. Bowman, Gen. Sherman's personal friend, and Lt. Col. Irwin, one of our ablest military writers—is the
COMPLETE OFFICIAL HISTORY
Of this grand army as a whole, and in all its details. Every Corps, Division, Brigade, and Regiment, is awarded its full share of credit and praise, the routes of march are carefully followed, the battles and skirmishes are described with the vividness of actual participation, and the whole narrative is enlivened by the countless incidents, both sad and mirthful, that were an inevitable accompaniment of such campaigns.

No other official and authentic history of this great army will be published, for no other writers can have access to the private and official papers of the several commanders. All such information is furnished for this work exclusively. The following letter from Gen. Sherman shows the official character of the work:

LANCASTER, O., July 31, 1865.
C. B. Richardson, Esq., 540 Broadway, N. Y.:
SIR—Col. S. M. Bowman, an acquaintance of mine since 1853 and more recently in the service of the United States, has had access to my Order and Letter Books embracing copies of all orders made and letters written by me since the winter of 1861-2 with a view to publish a memoir of my life and services, and no other person has had such an opportunity to read my secret thoughts and acts. I believe him to be in possession of all authentic facts that can interest the general reader. I am, &c., W. T. SHERMAN, Major General.

The volume is illustrated with splendid Steel portraits of Maj. Gens. Sherman, Schofield, Howard, Slocum, Logan, Blair, Davis, and Kilpatrick, and with carefully prepared maps and diagrams, furnished by Gen. O. M. Poe, Chief Engineer of the Army, and finely engraved on stone.

To all who have served, in any capacity, in these brilliant campaigns, the work will be invaluable; while to all who have had relatives or friends so engaged it will be of absorbing interest and value.

The Work is Sold Only by Subscription.

The Daily Commercial

EARLY AUTUMN.

Along the brook the yellow golden reeds,
With nodding plumes, stand idly swaying there;
Above the stream the summer's flying seeds,
Like tuneless insects, fill the balmy air.

A golden light upon the mountain sleeps,
Its feet are hid in valley vapors wet;
The blackberry on the wooded steeps
Wears its ripe berries of enamelled jet.

The pearly clouds becalmed within the sky,
Edged with pale gold, like summer castles stand,
Seen in a vision by some dreamer's eye,
Crowning the sunny slopes of fairy-land.

The gentle winds scarce stir the fading leaves—
Scarce move the brown and withered clover heads;
And undisturbed the busy spider weaves,
From bough to bough, her web of filmy threads.

Warm on the grass the brooding sunbeam lies;
The wandering airs are filled with faint perfume;
The aster's eye along each ridge descries
The upland sumach's crimson painted plume.

Upon the topmost spray the blackbird sings,
With mellow note, his silver-throated song;
The drowsy bee, with purple gossamer wings,
Hums his low, surly hymn the whole day long.

Idly I lie with half-shut, dreamful eyes,
And listen to the sounds that fill the air—
The bee's low hum; the wind's melodious sighs;
The wanton blackbird twittering blithely there.

Oh, soon will come the melancholy days,
When nature seems to wear a hidden grief,
And bleak and bare will be those pleasant ways,
Where moaning winds shall whirl the faded leaf.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

TIMELY RECIPES.

RECIPE FOR RUSKS.—The night before you wish to bake, take 1 pint of milk, 2 teacups of good yeast, 4 eggs, and stir in flour to make a thick batter. Let it rise till morning, then add 3 cups of butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons of soda, 2 teaspoons of nutmeg. Mix the white of 1 egg with molasses, and rub over the top before putting them in the oven, and also after they are baked. This will make 3 large tins. The above recipe is definite enough to suit your correspondent, and can't be beat.

GRAPE JAM.—Boil grapes very soft and strain them through a seive. Weigh the pulp thus obtained, and put a pound of crushed sugar to a pound of pulp. Boil it twenty minutes, stirring it often. The common wild grape is much the best for this use.

TOMATO CATSUP.—Take six pounds of tomatoes and sprinkle with salt; let them remain a day or two, then boil and press through a coarse sieve, or cullender. Put into the liquor half a pint of vinegar, cloves, pepper, ginger and cinnamon; boil them one-third away; bottle tight. It should be shook before being used.

APPLE CHAMPAGNE.—The following is a simple and cheap process of making champagne wine from apples:—Use round apples, and, without grinding, express from them the juice, which will be as limpid as water. The juice is then filtered through twelve inches of pulverized charcoal and clean sand and gravel, half and half. Underneath this a layer of straw has been laid and the bottom of the filtering vessel perforated with holes. As the juice comes from the filter it should be bottled up immediately, corked and put in a cellar, when it is soon fit for use.

GRAPE JELLY.—Pluck the grapes from the bunches, choosing only such as are sound and ripe. Scald them slightly by heating in a porcelain or brass kettle, and place them in a jelly bag to drain, first crushing the skins to allow the juice to exude. To make the best jelly the bag should not be pressed, but the juice allowed to drain slowly without pressure. To one pint of juice add a pint of white sugar, heat till dissolved and the mixture comes to a boil. Pour into tumblers, sealing them over with white paper smeared with the white of an egg, (which will make the paper stick to the glass,) and place in the sun till made.

SALTING DOWN CUCUMBERS FOR PICKLES.—In gathering the cucumbers leave half an inch of the stem on each one. Wash in cold water and pack in barrels with salt, alternating in layers. One barrel of salt is sufficient for five barrels of cucumbers. After having filled a barrel, cut out a false head, perforate with holes and place it on the cucumbers, and on the top of this place a heavy stone of say twenty five pounds' weight. This will keep the pickles always in brine. Remove all scum which may arise, and in four weeks fill up the barrel with more cucumbers, put more salt on, and head up. They are now ready for market.

EGG PLANT—HOW TO COOK IT.—Purple ones are best. Take them fresh, pull out the stem, par-boil them to take out the bitter taste, cut them in slices an inch thick without peeling them, dip them in the yolk of an egg and cover them with grated bread and a little salt and pepper. When one side has dried cover the other in the same way; then fry them a nice brown. They are very delicious. The egg plant may be dressed thus: par-boil it after scraping off the rind, cut a slice the whole length and take out the seeds, fill the space with rich, fine meat, stew it in well, eat with seasoned gravy, or bake and serve it up with gravy in the dish.—Moses Greenough.

MANGO PICKLES.—Select smooth skinned melons; when ready put them in a weak brine, and let them remain in it about ten days; then take out in a brass kettle, cover with cold water, and place upon the stove and bring to a scalding heat, but do not let them boil; then take out, and after removing the seeds sprinkle the inside well with mustard seed, and fill up with small cucumbers, previously soaked in brine, nasturtion, onions, if you like, fine cut cabbage, and any spices that you prefer; tie up well and place in good cider vinegar, and you will soon have fine, tender mangoes.

NOXIOUS INSECTS.—It cannot be denied that man has no enemy so great, so to be feared,—War, Pestilence, and Famine excepted,—as is presented in insect life. Though as individuals, they seem unworthy of notice, yet in their aggregate they hold tremendous and awful possibilities.

To-day, preyed upon by thousands of birds and by themselves, subject to a multitude of destroying agencies, yet what a sway they hold over the destiny of man. With every fruit he plucks; with almost every vegetable he cultivates; with the grain of his fields, and the flocks of his pastures, he has to contend in some shape with destructive insect life.

Let those providential agencies that hold them in check, but once cease or partially so, and the angel of destruction would literally be let loose upon us.

Each year brings with it some new development of destructive insect life. The older we grow, as a country, the greater become their ravages. Can too much attention and study be devoted to a subject that is so closely related to our interest?

Every means that tends to the destruction of our enemies should be carefully cherished.

I would here mention how last season I "flanked" a few specimens of insects that sought to rob me of the rightful fruit of my labor. Discovering my currant bushes covered with worms, I gave them a sprinkling with water, and then a light dusting of Cayenne pepper. The next morning found my bushes free. Finding my squash and cucumber vines infested by both the yellow bug and the large black one, I gave them a light sprinkling of water in which I had soaked some Cayenne pepper pods, and my vines were effectually cleared. They probably thought the seasoning too high, and sought a milder diet. I applied it to roses and other things infested with lice, with the best results. Where the remedy can be applied, I deem it one of the best.—Horticulturist.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FOR MORE THAN TWENTY YEARS Matthews' VENETIAN HAIR DYE has stood the test of trial, and is constantly increasing in public favor.

The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the best and cheapest made. Its price is only 75 cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

THIS HAIR DYE is manufactured by a peculiar process, which renders it infinitely superior to any dye in the market. Being complete in one bottle, no preparation is required, which greatly simplifies the application.

IN USING THIS DYE, you avoid that RUSTY, DEAD appearance by which dyed hair and whiskers are so readily recognized, when an inferior article has been used, as it produces a perfectly natural color of any shade that is desired, from a rich brown to a jetty, lustrous black, that will not smut, crock or stain the clothing. Invest 75 cents, and you will be convinced. Sold by all druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Being but 2 miles from the Court House, (via Wylie street) having a good road, it can be reached in a pleasant walk of twenty-five or thirty minutes, or a drive of fifteen minutes. There is also on the property a Passenger Car Station, making it convenient and pleasant to transact business in the city. Cars passing to and from the city throughout the day. REPORT OF SALES.

500 Connellsville 6's ... 80 50

THURSDAY, September 28—P. M.

The local stock market is without any change worthy of special mention. Bank shares are always in demand, but there are few sellers. In looking over the list of the morning Board, nearly every name on it received a bid. Governments especially were inquired for, but at a shade too low. Connellsville 6's sold at 80½. Allegheny City 6's remain firm, and the price at which they sold a week ago was refused. Columbia oil stock is not on the market: it has become too valuable, and holders are satisfied with it as a prime investment. The impression is that all of this stock, at a low price, has been picked up from weak holders, and the result will be a tendency to higher figures, which the constant yield of its wells will be able to maintain.

—In New York, to day, United States stock sold (dividend off) for $27 05—a decline of 20c. from yesterday. Pithole was about the same, but Webster sold down to 1¼.

—Gold and Silver mining stocks are finding favor with the public for investment and speculation. The Petroleum and Mining Boards in New York have combined, and the stocks of some of the earlier formed companies, which have been successful, are now in the market. Philadelphia has some fifteen formed and in process of organization; some of these are already on the ground and in active operation, whilst others are awaiting the filling up of the subscriptions to their capital stock. Silver mining is immensely profitable when good ore is found, and repays capital invested in a very short time. An instance of which is the San Dionos in Durango, which yielded a million annually for a period of twenty-five years. The Zavillo yielded twenty millions a year, and the Pavillion six millions. These and other mines of a similar character were operated with the rude machinery and manual labor of the Mexicans. Our mines are equally rich, and with the advantage of steam engines, and improved machinery, we may reasonably expect at least as favorable results.

The immense wealth of our mining territories, when properly developed, will have an important influence upon the National finances, and the maintenance of a specie basis, will be an easy matter when the mines are properly opened and their rich product made more accessible by railroads now in progress. Doubtless, as was the case with Petroleum, there will be large sums expended injudiciously, and possibly in some instances fraudulently, but, as in that case, a valuable product will be developed and the Nation enriched although some who invest their money without proper selections may be impoverished.

—The quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent. by the Fort Wayne Company has been declared, free of Government tax, for the 16th October. The transfers, in New York, close on Saturday next, 30th instant, to reopen on 17th proximo.

—The Boston Advertiser, of Tuesday, says there was some activity in copper stocks, but prices were not sustained, partly through influences of a recent failure. We note the following variations: Bay State declined ¾; Copper Falls ⅜; Franklin 1¾; Hancock ¼; Humboldt ⅜; Huron 2¼; Pewabic 2¾; Pittsburgh 1; Quincy 1¾; Minnesota 1. There was increased firmness at the close. The closing quotations were as follows:

—The New York Journal of Commerce says: A little inquiry will reveal to the curious reader a very singular chapter in the history of these new banks. It is the old story over again, with no variation except a fresh page and a chapter of type. The bank is nominally located in the distance, but its home is in the city; and the people for whose benefit it is ostensibly organized have no interest in it, unless its banking house shall be an ornamental feature in their landscape. Some of those in this and neighboring cities, most distinguished for their connection with the so-called "wild-cat" banks of former days, are large proprietors of the fledglings recently established in various parts of the country; and many who are new hands at the business, but have favorable partisan connections, have likewise embarked in the undertaking in the hope of large pecuniary rewards.

—In Philadelphia, according to the Press, investments seem to have taken a new channel of late, their direction pointing chiefly to the steam and passenger railroads of substantial character. At present there are few stocks offering greater security and the promise of higher returns for outlay than our city passenger railroads. The figures at which they are at present selling are quite low in view of the increased travel over all the roads, with the advanced rate of fare, and the general reduction of working expenses.

—A custom prevails among some sharp financiers by which the Government tax on notes is evaded. The Internal Revenue law requires stamps to be placed on all notes at the rate of fifty cents per thousand dollars. In order to evade this tax a borrower of say one hundred thousand dollars, instead of giving his note for the amount, with a fifty dollar stamp upon it, draws a check, which calls only for a two cent stamp, and passes the check with the collaterals to the banker, thus robbing the Government of fifty dollars less the two cents.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

ALLEGHENY CITY, September 28, 1865.

The cattle market since our last has exhibited increased firmness, with a larger demand for good fair cattle. The demand for local purposes was liberal. The offerings fell short of those of last week. This had the effect of strengthening the market, which closed firm with but few cattle left in the pens. The season for stock cattle is drawing to a close, hence there was a falling off in that description. One thing can always be relied on — good cattle can readily be disposed of in this market at good figures, while inferior lots are generally sold at a discount. The highest figure reached was $7 75 per cwt., while the heaviest portion of the sales were at from $6 to $7 per cwt. The lowest prices touched were $4 25@4 50. The sales at these figures were very light.

HOGS—The market this week was not only firm, but was firmer as the supply diminishes and the demand increases. The figures were pretty tall. The only sales were in a retail way at $13@14 ₩ cwt. These are astonishing figures—for swine. The sales all told did not amount to 100 head. The butchers were the only purchasers.

SHEEP.—The high prices of hogs, has turned the attention of dealers to sheep, hence the sales for some time back were of a more liberal description; prices have been uniform. The sales to butchers were liberal. So far as relates to prices no change was perceptible. The rates were as follows: Best quality, $6 25@6 50 ₩ cwt.; Second quality, $5 00@6 00. Pretty much the entire receipts were disposed of at the prices we have noted above. Below will be found the sales of cattle since our last:

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, September 29, 1865.

BUSINESS—There was a fair demand for the leading articles, without any disposition to speculate. The present figures being steep, buyers were disposed to purchase sufficient to supply the immediate wants of the city trade. The weather has been all that could be desired—cool nights and mornings, and pleasant during the day. The receipts of produce were not large, but were sufficient for present purposes. Our rivers are in fair navigable order to all points. Freights appear moderately plenty. Boats, by taking the turn system, are enabled to procure paying trips. This is as it should be. The daily expenses of running a boat are large, and boats have a just right to be paid a living price for carrying freight and passengers. Muskingum river and Zanesville shippers will find the punctual steamer Pilgrim at the landing this morning. She will return on Saturday at 4 P. M.; so make ready, as she will leave on time. Flour—The market was firm, with a fair local demand, particularly for the better grades. Prices have been uniform for some time past. The receipts were about equal to the demand for home consumption. The export demand was not large. Butter—The supply was far below the demand. Country dealers have withheld the supply, in order to maintain the present extravagant prices, which is nothing short of robbery. Cheese continues very scarce. The late advance was fully sustained. The present prices will soon increase the receipts. Eggs very scarce, with a demand for all that offers. Hay—Prices continue high, the demand being fully up with the supply, with none left over. Bacon—The present stock will soon be exhausted; this, however, will be of but little consequence to the mass of our community who have been prohibited for some time from using this article on account of the high prices; we have been made Jews against our wills. Hams at 35 cents a pound will do to talk about, but when it comes to purchasing, that is a more serious matter. Grain—The activity that pervaded the market for some time has not been maintained; buyers are not disposed to operate to any extent at the present figures, hence the market has been without movement. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice, viz:

JERSEY SWEET—The principal sales for some time past have been for this description. What appears strange is they have been disposed of at a more reasonable price than most descriptions of produce. Sales of 160 bbls in lots at $4 50@4 75@5 00 ₩ barrel.

LARD OILS—The demand being in advance of the supply, prices continue high. We note sales of 20 bbls No. 1 at $2 25@2 30 ₩ gallon; No. 2 was held at $2, but not much fancied.

CRANBERRIES—The market was steady but not very active. Buyers appear cautious. They don't fancy the present figures here. The sales were restricted at $11, for Eastern.

ONIONS—The demand is improving. We note further sales, in a small way, at $1 20@1 25 ₩ bushel.

LEAD—The market remains very firm under light supplies. The late advance has been sustained. Sales 50 pigs Galena at 12c.

SEEDS—The market has not been very active for some time past. Prices, generally speaking, were nominal. Clover, $12@12 50; Timothy, $4 50@4 75; Flax, a good article commands $2 75@3—ready stock of the latter very light.

ASHES—The sales for some time past have been confined to regular lots of Pearls, with sales of 5 tons at 9c ₩ lb.

SALT—The demand was fair and sales were regular, at the depot, at $2 60, and from store at $2 75, delivered.

LIME—Was unchanged, with further sales at $2 25 ₩ bbl.

BRAN—Market not very active; sales of 80 sacks, at 76c ₩ cwt.

GRAIN—We have nothing very interesting to note; the receipts being limited, the sales were of a similar description. Oats, the sales were 850 bush. from store, 50c; 450 do, at 52c; sales of 600 at depot, at 45c; 2 cars do, the terms were withheld. Barley is beginning to look up; the rates were: new, $1 25; old; $1 35@1 40, with sales of 3 car loads at these figures. Corn, demand improving; sales of 1 car at depot, at 75@80c. Rye nominal, at 90@95c. Wheat firm, and a good demand, with light receipts; sales of 2 cars spring, at $1 75@1 80; sales of 3 do winter, at $1 95@2 05.

HAY—The demand was well kept up; at the scales 21 loads were disposed of as follows: Prime quality, at $20@25; second do, $15@18.

FLOUR—The market remains firm with a good local demand. Holders were not disposed to give way, whilst buyers were inclined to touch sparingly, hence we have but few sales to record, at the following prices: Extra Family, 75 bbls spring wheat, $9 25@9 50; 100 bbls at $9 25@9 40. Western wheat—Sales 80 bbls $10 25; 30 bbls do, $10 15 and 100 bbls do, $10 25@10 37; 100 do, the terms were witheld.

CHEESE—The market was firm with a good demand. Sales 50 boxes, winter Reserve, 18½@19c; sales 50 boxes Goshen, 20@21c; sales 35 boxes Hamburg, 19@20c ₩ lb.

BUTTER—The market remains firm, the supply falling short of the demand; sales 30 packages, in lots, at 30@35c.

TIMBER—We note further sales of 10,000 cubic feet at 18c ₩ foot.

GROCERIES—We continue to notice a firm market with a steady demand for the various descriptions. Holders under the circumstances prefer selling small orders, having a strong faith that prices will advance.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, Friday, September 29, 1865.

BUSINESS in the oil way was not very active. There is rather a wide difference between the views of buyers and sellers. The latter seem particularly desirous of holding off, while the former would prefer to close contracts at once. The number of visitors to the oil brokers was large yesterday; they seemed to like to discourse on oil, particularly crude. This was the principal theme of their conversation. You can always find out the real state of the market watching their movements. Reports from Oil City were somewhat conflicting—they all seem to agree as to pretty steep figures. The stock in the market at present is very light. Holders are not anxious to part with their stocks. One parcel, a good round lot, was sold, deliverable in Philadelphia, at 30½c. This is a good round figure for crude. The same offer was made for other parcels, and refused. Later in the day the market became active, and buyers took hold freely at a further advance. As we said yesterday to sellers, set your figures, gentlemen; give buyers a chance, and sales can readily be made. Late in the day holders wanted a still further advance. Don't be too fast; there is no use in being unreasonable, in demanding figures that will soon put the article entirely out of the market. Refined oil was steady, but not very active. Holders manifested no disposition to operate, still the sales exceed those of the previous day. The stock in the market is very light, whilst most of the refiners have sold some round lots for future delivery. Tar was firm, but not very active. Prices were unchanged. Benzole—There was a falling off in the demand. The sales made were in a small way at previous prices.

CRUDE OIL—The receipts yesterday were small, amounting to 1,487 barrels by the river. Holders were very firm, and sales were made at a further advance, viz: 1,200 bbls bulk, at 29½c; 1,300 bbls bulk do, at 23½c; sales of two lots of 475 and 300 bbls, at 27c, packages returned; sales of 200 bbls, 170 bbls and 80 bbls, at 26c, packages returned. This would be equal to 31@32c packages included. At the close holders of tank oil were asking 30c. We heard of no sales beyond what we have quoted.

REFINED OILS—The market was firm. It could not be well otherwise, when the advance in crude is taken into consideration. The sales were: Free oil, 75 barrels on the spot at 72c, and 150 barrels do at 73c per gal. The bonded sales were: 1,000 barrels, October delivery, Philadelphia, seller's option, at 61c; 500 barrels, November, Philadelphia, seller's option, at 62c; 1,000 barrels bonded, free on the cars, Pittsburgh, October, 53c.

Cleveland Iron Ore Trade.

Next to coal, and intimately connected with it, iron ore, especially that of Lake Superior, forms one of the prominent articles on which the prosperity of Cleveland is founded. The iron ore of the Lake Superior region is known as the best quality of the article produced in the world. By trials made in the Ordnance Department, it is found to exceed in strength the best of Russia, Swedes or Salisbury iron. It has, besides its tenacity, peculiar advantages for machinery and bolts, spikes and rods, having greater stiffness than is usual with tough fibrous iron. Either in its pure state or mixed with inferior iron of a harder quality produced in Ohio, or brought from New York and Canada, it is in great demand wherever tenacity and strength is required. There are twenty-seven furnaces deriving their supplies of iron ore chiefly from this place, most of them consuming the Lake Superior ore, and working on an average, 5,000 tons of pig iron each per annum. The imports of iron ore by lake, chiefly from Lake Superior, were, in 1864, 131,000 tons, of which 90,775 tons were taken by the Mahoning Railroad to the furnaces of the Mahoning Valley. This business is steadily and rapidly increasing. Besides the iron ore imported, there were considerable quantities of pig iron received by lake from Lake Superior.—Herald.

New York Finance and Trade.

NEW YORK, September 28.

STOCKS.

The stock market shows a hesitation after the strong upward demand of the last few days, apparently owing to a disposition of the operators to realize on the advance. There is, however, still a very general activity and prevailing inclination to buy for higher prices. Governments quiet, the prevailing disposition being to sell. State Securities firm and in demand. North Carolina Sixes advanced 2; Virginia Sixes 3½ higher. The miscellaneous list continues active and mostly firm, especially coal stocks. The Stock Exchange to-day voted to call the 5 20 bonds, coupons off, on and after Monday. The stock market was heavy at the second board, with considerable hammering on the part of bears. After Board the market stiffened a little and was quite firm. At the last Board Michigan Central rose to 115 on rumors of a 15 per cent. stock dividend in October. The following are the closing prices at 4:30 P. M: New York Central, 95@95⅛; Erie, 87⅝@87¾; Hudson River, 110⅝@110¾; Michigan Central, 114⅞@115; Michigan Southern, 69⅞@69⅞; Rock Island, 111⅝@111⅞; Reading, 113⅛@113¼; Fort Wayne, 93@93⅛; Ohio and Mississippi Certificates, 27⅞@28; Canton, 49½@41; Cumberland Coal, 46⅛@46⅝; Mariposa, 12¾@13; Quicksilver, 49@49½; Central Coal, 65⅝@65¾.

MONEY

Moderately active, and market easy at 5@6 per cent. on call. There is rather more doing in commercial paper, and rates are 7@10 per cent.

GOLD

Closed at 143⅞@144. There is very little inquiry for bills on Europe, and rates of exchange are weak, the leading drawers quoting sixty days sterling at 109⅞@110. Commercial bills continue scarce.

The Commercial says: Mr. Pearson had not conclusively accepted the offer of English capitalists to lend $5,000,000 to the Erie Company. It is thought this will be done at 70, the bonds payable thirty years after date in coin, and to carry 6 per cent. interest in gold. The proceeds of the loan is estimated at 70, and allowing for exchange, would be about $5,000,000 currency, which would enable the company to pay off Mr. Drew's loan of $2,000,000, and have a balance of $3,400,000 for other purposes.

The Commercial also says no proposals have been made by the owners of the Atlantic and Great Western to amalgamate the Erie interest with theirs, as has been rumored, nor have any sort of propositions been made by the English capitalists visiting the West to the managers of the Erie Company. At the monthly meeting of the Erie directors yesterday, the reports of the condition of the road were considered very satisfactory, the earnings showing an increase and the expenses a decrease. It is stated by the directors that the outstanding liabilities of the road, outside of Mr. Drew's loan, do not exceed $800,000.

The following was to-day's business of the United States Assistant Treasurer: Total receipts, $1,080,042 73; Payments, $1,536,997 28; Balance, $70,431,173 25. The receipts include for customs, $162,000; account of loan, $204,000.

New York Petroleum Market.

As we have before remarked, most of the Crude now coming forward is high gravity, and consequently low gravity is sought after by refiners, at a preference of ½@1 cent ₩ gallon—the market, however, stands 1 cent ₩ gallon higher for 40@47 gravity, than at the date of our last writing, closing firm at 33@33½ cents—the sales are 4,100 bbls for immediate delivery, at 27 for 47½@48, gravity, 38@38½, for 40@47, and 39 for 20 bbls. 43 gravity—including in the sales 200 bbls of 40@45 gravity, at 35, packages returned, and 500 do. in casks, 34, packages returned; 1,500 bbls, deliverable 1st to 15th October, 35⅛ S. Refined continues scarce and firm, and rather better transactions being restricted by the small quantity offering; the sales are 1,400 bbls on the spot, at 66@67 for Light Straw to White, closing at 67@68 for prime; 2,700 gallons in tin, 72@74; 800 bbls in Philadelphia, for October, 70 B. O.; and 1,000 do. there, 15th@30th November, 49¾ B. O. Free continues in fair demand, at full prices—the sales are 1,350 bbls, at 76½@80½ for straw; 79@80 for straw to white, and 80@82½ for standard white; and some 5,000 gallons in tin, 82c. cash. We notice sales of 200 bbls Naptha 60 gravity, at 45c, and 50 do. Gasoline, 28c, cash. Purchases of 500 bbls residuum, have been made recently at $5 ₩ bbl in Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati Market.

CINCINNATI, September 28.—Flour continues dull and prices irregular. Sales of Superfine at $7 50@7 75. The inquiry is chiefly for the higher grades and that made from old stock and freshly ground. New Extra is held at $8 00@8 25, Old at $8 50@8 75, and Family and Fancy at $9 25@10 50. A good demand for prime old red Wheat at $2. The demand for New is limited. Prices range from $1@1 75 according to quality. Corn steady at 95 for strictly sound Ear. Oats in good demand at 44@45 in bulk and elevator for No. 1. Rye continues dull at 75 for prime new, and 85 for old. Barley dull and prices nominal. Whisky quiet at $2 26. Mess Pork advanced to $33, but closed quiet. At this rate, bulk meats held higher. Shoulders 17½@17¾. Sides 19@19½. Bacon at 18½@21, and 24 for Shoulders, Sides and Clear Sides. Lard dull. Butter 45@50. Groceries firm; good demand. Gold 143⅞.

Cincinnati Provision Market.

September 27.—Under the improved consumptive demand from various quarters, and a general conviction that the stock is reduced to narrow margins, the Provision market has become decidedly buoyant in tone during the week. Mess Pork was sold to-day at $32 50 to a considerable extent, but the prevailing asking price on the favorite brands that are on the market is $33.

Lard has about passed out of reckoning, at 30c as a closing out figure, though 30½c is in some cases asked. Bulk Shoulders and Sides have been kept in reserve, and the price advancing quite as fast, if not faster, than the demand for them. 18½@17½c are regarded as trading figures, though they are hardly to be had for either, as the latter are now generally held at 18c. Bacon Shoulders are quoted at 18½c. Sides are hard to learn of; nominally we quote them at 19½@19¾c for rib, 21c for clear rib, and 23c for clear—the last figure is extreme, sales were made at 23½c, but now 24c is asked. Accurate trading figures vary greatly, and are scarcely reportable.

Tallow and Oil at Cincinnati.

September 27.—TALLOW—Prices are higher and but little in the market. On Monday about 100,000 pounds sold, in lots, at 16@17c, the latter rate for Butcher's Association; but there was none to be had below 17½c at the close, except some small country lots, which were procured at 16@16½c.

OIL—Lard Oil has advanced materially, and is in light supply, the market closing firm at $2 25@2 30 for No. 1 and extra. Linseed has been in moderate jobbing demand, at $1 60@1 62, though forced sales have been made at $1 55, but this rate is below the market. Petroleum is firmer, but prices are not higher. We quote refined at 73@76c, duty paid.

Cincinnati Iron and Nail Market.

September 27.—Iron—The demand has improved considerably, and prices are advancing. We quote pig at $45@50 ₩ ton for hot blast, and $58@75 for cold-blast. Bar has advanced to 5½@6⅞c for common and charcoal. Horse-shoes advanced to 7½@8c for Shoenberger's.

Nails—We have to notice a further advance of 50c ₩ keg, with a good demand. We quote 10d to 60d at $6 75@7, and other sizes in the usual proportion.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

September 27.—The sales to-day of Leaf Tobacco at Bodmann's warehouse, were as follows: 23 hhds and 20 boxes, viz: 23 hhds Mason county Leaf, Lugs and Trash—2 at $10@4 50; 1 at $8; 1 at $6; 1 at $7 25; 3 at $7 50@9 50; 1 at $10; 1 at $11 50; 1 at $13; 4 at $15@15 75; 1 at $17; 1 at $18; 1 at $19 25; 1 at $20 75; 2 at $22 25; 1 at $26; 1 at $25 50. 2 hhds Virginia—1 at $6 50; 1 at $14 75. 20 bxs Kentucky and Virginia, at prices ranging from $1 50 to $22 25. Receipts moderate.

Coal at Cincinnati.

There has been no essential change. We quote Youghiogheny at 20c afloat, and 25c delivered to consumers; and Ohio River at 16@18c afloat, and 22@21c delivered. The demand continues good.

Hogs at Cincinnati.

The supply of Hogs has been equal to the demand, and prices advanced to $13@14 per cental, gross, the market closing firm, with a good demand at this rate.

Cleveland Pig Iron Market.

September 28.—The market is firm and active. The following are the quotations: Massillon No 1 per ton $52; do No. 2, $45; Charcoal, Lake Superior, $60@65; Hanging Rock, $55.

New York Grocery Market.

COFFEE—The market for Rio is very firm, but has remained quiet since our last, and we only notice 687 bags Rio, part at 20½@21c, and 628 do shimming, from second hands, 18c, both gold, duty paid. In other descriptions there is no change to notice. Java remains very firm, the tendency being to still further improvement. The sales are 800 mats Java at 29@29½c gold, and 40@42c currency; 455 bags Ceara 21; 250 Maracaibo 22c; 1,936 Laguayra 21@22c; 8 tierces and 30 barrels Jamaica, part 20c; 150 bags St. Domingo 18½c, all gold, duty paid; 120 Savanilla, and 16 bbls Demerara, on terms we did not learn. The stock of Rio at the Ports, Monday evening, as made up by Messrs. William Scott & Sons, was 12,928 bags, viz: 10,428 bags here, and 2,500 in Baltimore.

There are no new features to report; the market though not active is steady, previous prices being well supported, especially for prime and choice qualities. The sales are 383 hhds and 30 tierces Porto Rico at 76c; 221 hhds do. in lots, at 75@80c; 820 hhds and 6 tierces Cuba Muscovado, 47@71c; and 162 hhds Centrifugal, 42c, 4 mos.

TEA—There is a good demand and a strong market, with sales of 6,700 half chests and 150 boxes Oolong, 800 Souchong, and 1,257 half chests and 300 boxes Green, part in English order—a portion of the above from second hands.

SUGAR—There is a steady and fair demand for raw for home use, the market remaining very strong. Our revised quotations of refining grades are again a little higher. Refined continues in fair request, but prices are one-eighth of a cent lower. The Messrs. Stuart have not varied their quotations. The sales of raw are 2,532 hhds Cuba at 11½@15c; 47 very inferior do, 8@9 25; 404 Porto Rico, 14@16¼c; 50 English Island, 12¾c, and 5,163 boxes Havana, 11½@17c, 4 months. By auction, 125 boxes brown Havana, damaged, sold at 12½@12¾c, cash.—Shipping List.

New York Iron Market.

The market continues very scantily supplied with Scotch and American Pig, and full prices are realized; the sales are 1 000 tons Glengarnock Scotch, to arrive, at $50@47; 25 do, here, $55; 100 do No. 1, ex. American, $49; 300 do No. 2 ex., $45@46, at Elizabethport; 500 do No. 1, at Poughkeepsie, $45@47; and 500 do No. 2, same delivery, $43, cash. There are no invoices of English on the market, and stocks in dealers hands are small and under a good demand, growing less—there is no change in our quotations. An invoice of 100 tons Swedes bars sold on private terms. Trenton refined bar is held at $110 from manufacturers hands.—Shipping List.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Gold Market.

NEW YORK, September 28.—Gold is in good demand for customs, but otherwise the demand is limited. There is less borrowing, and the rate per day has fallen from 1-16 to 1-32. Cleveland Coal Trade.

We have already noted the fact of the superior quality of the product of the coal fields tributary to Cleveland, and their extent. The growth of the coal trade of this city is remarkable, and its importance increasing. The shipments of coal to other ports on the lake are very large, while the consumption for domestic and manufacturing purposes in Cleveland rapidly increases. In 1864 the following were the receipts of coal from the interior:

	Tons.
Canal	148,265
Cleveland & Pittsburgh R. R.	183,847
Mahoning R. R.	129,723
Total	461,835

In 1854 the receipts were 170,975 tons, in 1858 they were 222,267; in 1862, 346,996 tons, showing an increase of one third in two years, and nearly three fold in ten years. The shipments by lake in 1864 were over 229,000 tons, being at the assessed value of two and a quarter million dollars.—Herald.

Wheat Crop.

The Commissioner of Agriculture, it seems, made the following report as to the information received in his Bureau, concerning the condition of the crop of new wheat up to September 1:

"The wheat crop has received no additional injury from the weather since his report of last month; but the quality of the crop is not good, especially in the Western States, where it was affected by blight and rust, as well as by the wet weather during harvest. Of old wheat on hand, there is not as much as was supposed in the hands of the farmers, for much of it was brought during July and August."

Hog Crop.

The first of September report of the Commissioner of Agriculture concerning the crop of hogs contained the following:

Every State returns a decrease in the number of fattened hogs. The general decrease is about one-tenth from the number last year, so far as returns were published. Of the number packed last year in the west it was 2,422,779. A tenth decrease on this number would be 242,277.

THE steamer Darling arrived at Cincinnati from Memphis with 1,000 bales cotton.

THE wreck of the River Queen will be sold to-day at the mouth of Ferry street.

THE MONONGAHELA MARKS—The old marks on the bridge indicated five feet six inches and falling. The new ones four feet six inches.

THE ALLEGHENY BRIDGE MARKS—These marks indicated scarce six feet water and falling. Weather pleasant.

THE punctual packet Pilgrim, Capt. J. C. McVay, will be found at the wharf. She will return to all points on the Muskingum and Zanesville on Saturday, at 4 P. M.

THE Silver Lake is back again after an absence of over two years, spent principally in the employ of "Uncle Abraham."

THE public will be pleased to learn that the Elizabeth packet, James Rees, has been thoroughly repaired, and has resumed her daily trips to that port.

THE splendid steamer Roanoke, Captain James Shedden, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations, and is in charge of as careful a set of officers as can be produced.

LAUNCH AT MONONGAHELA CITY.—Yesterday afternoon Messrs. Wofflinger & Shafer, of Monongahela City, launched from their yard the fine new steamboat Storm King. She is a first class stern wheel boat, and is pronounced a perfect model by competent judges.

THE splendid passenger steamer Delaware, Captain B. W. Harton, is announced this day for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat has first-class accommodations, and stands at the head of the list. We have often heard passengers speak of the attention paid them by the officers of this boat.

THE fine light draught passenger steamer, J. S. Hall, Captain John Woodburn, is announced for Memphis and Fort Smith, Arkansas. To persons who want to ship, the present opportunity should not be neglected. Our accomplished friend, Captain J. W. Chambers, will do the honors in the office.

THE splendid steamer Roanoke, Capt. Jas. Shedden, has been overhauled and fitted up in a superior manner. In appearance she resembles a new boat. Capt. Shedden has spared no expense. She looks as bright as a dollar. She will turn for St. Louis after the Armenia.

WILD DUCK is the name of a new towboat built at Brownsville by Captain G. D. Laughlin, formerly of the little Hawk Eye. Length 145 feet, beam 24 feet, hold 4 feet. She will be furnished with 3 boilers 26 feet long and 28 inches in diameter, 5 cylinders 17 inches, with 5½ feet stroke. She is intended for the Allegheny river, and will be a first-class boat. We congratulate Captain George.

THE splendid passenger packet Armenia, Captain McCallam, is announced for St. Louis. She loads in turn after the Minnie, and she leaves to-day. This boat has been fitted up entirely new, and is one of the most complete to be found anywhere. Our ever attentive friend, Mack, Jr., will do the honors in the office, and they will be well done.

THE Star Line Packet, James R. Gilmore, on arriving at the mouth of Cumberland found the river falling, with only twenty inches on the shoals, and not wishing to disappoint her Nashville friends by laying up there, reshipped all her freight per railroad. When the James R. Gilmore puts her bills up for the mountains, shippers may rest assured she will get her freight there, water or no water.

MADE HER LAST TRIP.—The well known steamer Minerva is being dismantled. She was one of the best boats of her class ever built. Unfortunately, boats don't improve by age, like whisky, or else the Minerva would be old enough to vote. Her machinery will be fitted up and placed in a new boat, to be commanded by Captain George W. Johnston, one of the best officers that comes to this port. As the new boat progresses we shall have more to say. In the meantime, good by, Minerva.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

STEAMER DICTATOR, CINCINNATI, Sept. 26, 1865.

The steamer Dictator arrived here on Sunday evening, having been detained at the bridges at Steubenville and Wheeling some twenty-four hours, and by fog some twenty-six hours. So far, the machinery has worked successfully, and to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. The fuel consumed, by actual measurement, in twenty four hours, is but one hundred bushels, which is an item in these days of high priced fuel. Whilst here she has been visited by hundreds, who are delighted with the workmanship by our mechanics. Quite a goodly number of our citizens and their families are making a pleasure trip. Among the number I noticed are Samuel Morrow and family, A. Hartupee and family, Mr. D. W. C. Carroll and family, Mr. Murphy and family, and others. The Dictator leaves this evening for New Orleans, fully freighted and full of passengers.

Official as to Changing Boat Names.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, August 30, 1865.

Surveyor of Customs St. Louis, Mo.:

SIR: Application having been made to this Department to have the gunboat Naiad, said to have been recently purchased of the Navy Department, licensed as a vessel of the United States, the Secretary directs me to instruct you that vessels which are thus purchased of the Government will be placed in respect to enrollment and license on the same footing as new vessels; their previous record, if they had any, having been destroyed by passing into the hands of the Government. If, therefore, you shall be furnished with evidence satisfactory to you that the vessel in question has been actually purchased of the Government, and not been since documented, you may on due compliance by her owners with all laws regulating the issue of enrollment and license, including the proper inspection of hull and boilers, if she be a steamer, grant her the desired papers under her present name of Naiad, her former one of Princess, or under any other name that the owners may indicate, which must, of course, be ever after unchanged.

By direction of the Secretary,
Very respectfully,
J. A. HARTLEY, Assistant Secretary.

Cincinnati.

September 27.—We condense the following from the Commercial:

The river has receded 2 feet during the twenty-four hours ending last night. There are 16 feet hence to Louisville, and 7½ feet in the canal. There are two feet in the Cumberland and falling, and nine feet in the Mississippi from St. Louis to Cairo.

The Yorktown brought 392 tons, having discharged 48 tons of hemp at Louisville. She discharged here 13 tons metal for Traber & Aubery, 2 sacks roots for W. S. Merrill, 22 kegs shot for White Bros. & Co., 5 hhds hams for J. C. Nye, 1 piano for P. Powell, 1 horse for F. G. Oxley. The balance of her cargo is for Wheeling and Pittsburgh, whither she is bound.

Captain D. M. Dryden telegraphs us there were five and one half feet water in the steamboat pass, and four feet over the rocks, on the Falls, last night, and falling.

Dan Able & Co. have purchased the Louisville for $30,000, for the Memphis and Vicksburg trade.

Captain James F. Wilson takes charge of the office of Captain A. Hoff's new Portsmouth and Pittsburgh packet Marietta, now being completed here. She will leave for Pittsburgh in a few days.

The steamboat captains and owners met yesterday, when the Committee on Constitution and By-laws reported. Their report was accepted, when the meeting adjourned to meet again at Slimer & Ralpe's office, on Thursday morning, at nine o'clock, when a permanent organization is anticipated. Captain D. Collier was in the Chair, while Captain John Wherry acted as Secretary.

SALE OF STEAMBOATS.—Captain Tom Holms has bought one-fourth of the Phantom, at the rate of $18,000 for the whole boat. She has gone to the Wabash.

It looks as if the Magenta was sold positively, or that the sale will be consummated in a day or two, by having the papers made out. Captain T. P. Leathers, at all events, seems to have received possession of her. Her pilots came up on the Magnolia. The price agreed upon at New Orleans was less than $150,000; probably it is $140,000. Leathers is an old boatman in the lower trade. He has desired possession of the Magenta for a long time, and wants to run her to Vicksburg in conjunction with the famous Quitman. The matter, we understand, was decided in New Orleans last Friday week. The Magenta cost $150,000. Her last owners were David White, Joseph Lowrie, John Weaver, and another party.
